Foreword

In the Flow of Light – A Year of Connection & Healing

As we, as a team, look back on the year 2025, we feel how much movement, encounter, and depth these months carried within them.

It was a year in which Sri Kaleshwar's teachings were able to unfold even further – in the hearts of many people, in new forms of learning, and in moments of quiet realization.

After years of change and reorientation, the energy of 2025 gathered in a clearly felt way. It was as if the rivers had begun to flow back toward the ocean – powerful, steady, moving in their natural course.

Many students deepened their practice, new groups emerged, and the community grew in a spirit of trust and openness. At the same time, we reconnected with students worldwide – traveling with 90 people from Europe, the USA, Japan, and India to the Kumbha Mela. This “reunion” set in motion profound processes of healing and inner depth that continue to resonate and fill us with gratitude.

We also witnessed how deeply inner practice is connected to outer service.

Through projects such as the construction of the eye clinic in Kabuku, Baba's Table in Brno, a service day at the school of Swami's father, as well as through every bhajan evening and every puja, a fine net of light emerges – a living reminder that spirituality always means service to the world.

This past year also reminded us how important it is to create and preserve places of stillness and healing – spaces where consciousness can grow.

Kaleshwara Yoga understands itself as a path that opens these spaces, both inwardly and outwardly. In 2025, many people found the courage to walk further along the inner path – step by step, with dedication and clarity.

May the experiences of this year strengthen us all in passing on the light we have received.

For every heart that opens brings light into the world – and this light is what carries the future.

With love and gratitude,
Tatyanna Janavi & Tobias Bhuto
on behalf of the Kaleshwara Yoga Team

Milestones 2025

A Year in Review

2025 was a year of deepening and alignment. Many processes that began in previous years found their form and entered their next stage.

One significant milestone was certainly the completion of the first phase and the beginning of the second phase of Paramashiva Yoga – Power Channels Intensive, in which many practitioners stepped more deeply into the sacred energy channels.

In parallel, the Sri Chakra Intensives opened the connection to the Divine Mother even further, guiding many participants through powerful meditation and puja experiences.

A special highlight of the year were our two pilgrimages to India:

In January and February, together with the Paramashiva Healing Center (USA), we traveled to the Maha Kumbha Mela, to Varanasi and Rishikesh – into the pulsating heart-energy of India's ancient spiritual tradition.

In July, a second journey led us to Sri Kaleshwar's ashram in Penukonda, offering participants profound insights into the source of our lineage and the original energy field of the Master.

Additional highlights in our KY Centers:

In August, a large Baba statue found its home in the KY Soul Garden in the Ries region, transforming the place even more into a vibrant field of the Master's presence.

In November, a Ganesh statue was installed in Einhausen, bringing protection, blessings, and lightness to the community.

The major yearly festivals—especially Shivaratri, Guru Purnima, and Navaratri—brought the community together in powerful ways, both onsite and online.

With every fire, every coconut, and every prayer, it became increasingly palpable that the connection between inner practice and the outer world is becoming ever more alive.

Spiritual Practice

& Teachings

The core of Kaleshwara Yoga remains the transmission of living knowledge.

In 2025, numerous meditation programs, retreats, and online processes focused on bringing Sri Kaleshwar's original teachings into a form that remains accessible and experiential for today's students.

The practice deepened in small groups, with personal guidance and in shared sadhana. Many students reported that they had found a new access to silence, clarity, and inner guidance in their daily lives — a sign that the energy of the lineage is alive and well.

Look, once if you open your heart for the truth – satya, dharma, shanthi, prema – it will be with you, it will support you. It brings you to the Almighty. First catch either one – be truthful, satya. Or be a fair judge, dharma. Or be shanthi, whatever the anger, whatever the blocks, be quiet and calm. Or be accepting, whatever it is be a loving person, prema. First take one in your hand, practice that. The remaining things automatically will come to you. Automatically it will come to you.

Community

& Training

Kaleshwara Yoga has grown — not through structures, but through heart connections. In 2025, the community grew in mutual support, trust, and joy, and it continues to pass on the knowledge together — each in their own way, in the language of their own lives.

The Kaleshwara Yoga Centers in Einhausen, Noerdlinger Ries, and Brno offer the opportunity to participate in regular fire ceremonies, Sai Shakti Healing evenings, and Bhajan events. There are also frequent opportunities for seva — even simple tasks such as gardening, building dhuni, and chopping wood together provide beautiful moments of joy and fulfillment.

The online formats made it possible for students from all over the country to participate in joint pujas, meditations, and teachings.

One focus was on Soul University, which is increasingly flourishing as a place of practice and deepening — for aspiring teachers as well as advanced students who want to clarify their personal path. Here, knowledge is not only imparted, but also explored and lived together.

Once if you're loving everybody around you, the love energy, pure divine love, then you know satya. You can't tell, this is satya, in this planet. Can't show anything except pure divine love. There's no difference between love and satya.

Healing & Seva

Service to the World

The energy that arises through practice finds its expression in service to others. When consciousness becomes clear, giving begins to happen naturally. In this way, healing is not a state but a continuous flow.

One example of this is “Baba’s Table” — our long-standing seva project in Brno, active since 2011. Every Sunday, meals are cooked and distributed to more than 150 people in need. What began as a small initiative has, over the years, become a place of quiet and reliable support — carried by love, compassion, and the understanding that every act of sharing is a form of healing. Through times of outer unrest, Baba’s Table remains a steady symbol of what seva truly means: selfless service from the heart.

Another deeply meaningful project this year was the “Children Fun Day” in Kadapa, held at the school of Swami’s father. In honor of Swami’s birthday, we asked for donations and raised more than €3,000. This allowed Marina Försch to create a beautiful day for the children during her visit to India in August. With games, music, and small gifts, the day became an unforgettable experience for the students — a moment full of joy, lightness, and love, making the bond of our lineage tangible across all borders. Sri Kaleshwar’s parents, Subbamma and Subarayudu Anupati, were especially moved: “It is so wonderful that Swami’s students think of us.”

In 2025, much of our attention also flowed into the Kabuku Eye Clinic Project (Tanzania). Our 2024 goal — equipping an operating room — was achieved: approximately €23,000 were contributed, and cataract surgeries are now being performed regularly. So far, we have been able to help 1,124 patients: 579 received new glasses, 240 received medical treatment for their eyes, and 154 received eye surgeries. The next step — the construction of a clinic building — requires €65,000 in funding and calls for creative ways to gather these resources. A benefit concert by Lars Gehrmann in Reimlingen in October brought both awareness and donations, and Joke de Kroon, serving as an ambassador for the project in Switzerland, is raising funds through her physiotherapy practice in Zurich.

The spirit of service also resonated in our Dharma Shop:

With releases such as the piano album “Soothing for Babies” by Lars Gehrmann, healing is made audible — each note contributing to a meaningful cause.

Through all these projects, 2025 became a powerful reminder:

Spirituality serves life — and every heart that gives helps to heal the world.

Pianist Lars Gehrmann spielt Benefizkonzert in Reimlingen

Allein durch die Eintrittsgelder werden 1800 Euro eingenommen.
Die Summe geht an eine Augenklinik in Tansania.

Reimlingen Es war allerhand los im sonst mehr oder weniger beschaulichen Reimlingen. Der Tag der offenen Baustelle im neu konzipierten Heil- und Seminarzentrum „Einklang“ zog zahlreiche Besucher an. Zunächst ging es auf der Baustelle um die Entstehung einer Vision, um naturverbundenes Bauen, Architektur im Einklang mit den Elementen und letztlich um die Vorstellung von Idee, Konzeption und Absicht des Heil- und Seminarzentrums. Den Ideengebern und Initiatoren, Helen und Adolf Zwölfer, gaben spannende Einblicke in Arbeit und Vision von „Einklang“. Anschließend sollte ein Benefizkonzert in den provisorischen Räumen des Zentrums stattfinden, doch noch fehlende Fenster hätten daraus eine kühle Anglegenheit gemacht. Aber mit Heiner Hildebrand und seinem Kulturstadt hat man spontan ein Ausweichquartier samt Konzertflügel gefunden, in dem sich der Kasseler Pianist Lars Gehrmann den Gästen präsentieren konnte. Im Stil und erstaunlich nah an seinem offensichtlich großen Vorbild Keith Jarrett. Den ersten Teil widmete er größtenteils dem französischen Klavier-Impressionisten Claude Debussy, unter anderem „Clair de Lune“, „Arabesque Nr. 1“ und „Reflets dans l'eau“. Aber auch Eric Saties „Gymnopedie Nr. 1“ verstand er brillant und jazzig zu interpretieren, genauso wie Ravel „Jeux D'eau“, um dann mit Franz Liszt „Liebestraum Nr. 3“ und schließlich Keith Jarretts „Köln Concert, Part II C“ in die Pause zu gehen.

Danach spielte er unter dem großen Applaus im voll besetzten

Die Initiatoren des Benefizkonzertes in Reimlingen (von links) Tobias Gonschorek, Tatyanna Rempal, Pianist Lars Gehrmann, Jenniver Gebhardt und Martin Stumpf. Foto: Peter Urban

Konzertstadt zunächst „Somewhere over the Rainbow“. Um dann mit Astor Piazzollas „Invierno“ und „Libertango“ und Paul Desmonds „Take 5“ die Jazzklassiker auszu packen, wobei er vor allem bei Take 5 eine überragende Improvisation einbaute. Um dann mit Miles Davis „All Blues“ einen faszinierenden Schlusspunkt zu setzen. Zwei Zugaben erklatschte sich das euphorisierte Publikum, bevor es Gehrmanns „Light My Fire“ so begeisterte, dass es doch noch einen dritten Song gab, auf besonderen Wunsch von Initiatorin Jenniver Gebhardt: „Wann wird's mal wieder richtig Sommer“, das der ganze Saal dann mitsang.

Ein Benefizkonzert, das noch lange nachhallen wird. Vor allem, weil der Erlös (allein 1800 Euro an Eintrittsgeldern) komplett dem Herzensprojekt von Gebhardt, der Augenklinik in Tansania, zugute kommt. Und für das sie unermüdlich, zusammen mit dem Projekt „5 Steine für Afrika“ von Martin Stumpf, unterwegs ist. Aktuell fehlen für eine Erweiterung knapp 65.000 Euro, damit dort endlich ein vollwertiges Gebäude mit entsprechenden Räumen entstehen kann.

NAVARATRI SADHANA

My heartfelt thanks for this profound process with the many talks and wonderful images and recordings! Thank you to everyone on site who supported this process so powerfully, whether in Ries, Einhausen, or other places. I have gained insights and inspiration that will continue to accompany and support me! Thank you, thank you, thank you!

FIREPUJA REMOTE

The three of us meditated at home [during the Homa period]. After a while, we all entered a state that felt like trance. My sister suddenly said she could see the fire—and I myself smelled it twice, very clearly, even though the incense stick had long since burned out. It was a moment that surprised and touched us all.

We were grateful not to be sitting alone. This feeling of connection that arises in meditation is difficult to put into words, but it was there, clear and familiar.

It was an evening that showed us how deeply this practice works, even at home, without a fire puja.

FIREPUJAS

Thank you so much for continuing to keep the energy high and providing inspiration for so many years now. I wish you strength, health, and a long life. May all processes be successful and may peace return to everyone's souls.

Looking Ahead

Vision for 2026

The new year calls us to carry the light forward. What has matured in 2025 will continue to blossom in 2026. We see 2026 as a time of stabilization — of deeper anchoring of teaching, practice, and service. New courses, encounters, and initiatives are planned that will nourish both the heart and the consciousness. Special attention will be given to passing on knowledge in a structured and long-term manner — with heart, clarity, and quality.

May knowledge continue to flow wherever it is needed — as a seed, as fire, as a blessing. Every puja, every project, every act of devotion contributes to the greater whole.

We can change the planet through the love. We can change the planet through the forgiveness. But we have to have to stand for the truth and love with the determination heart. If you don't have the determination heart you will lose it. No matter how much you're carrying true love, if you don't have the determination heart, you'll lose it. You need to stand until your last breath for the truth and determination heart. You have to stand – do or die. Then only we can succeed. Then only we can get some fragrance in the planet. Otherwise it's impossible to carry your fragrance.

Sri Kaleshwar

Thank You to all of You!

Our deepest gratitude goes to all those who keep the fire burning by supporting this path: the teachers, students, supporters, and friends of the lineage.

Your commitment, your prayers, and your silent practice keep the energy alive.

2025 has shown us once again that true spirituality needs community: people who give, serve, learn, and love.

May the light that has grown this year continue to shine into the world in 2026.

We don't know what's going to happen tomorrow. We don't know. We really don't know.

Die for the truth. Stand for the truth. The ultimate final goal, we're here. When we really surrender for the truth and dharma – Satya, dharma, shanti, prema, the four principles what I've mentioned there's no compromise.

Never, ever compromise.

Please Support the Work of Kaleshwara Yoga

So that light, knowledge, and healing can continue to flow

Our work carries Sri Kaleshwar's consciousness into the world — through teaching, practice, meditation, music, art, and seva projects. This allows many people to find inner peace, healing, and a supportive spiritual community. All proceeds from courses, pilgrimages, and the Dharma Shop go directly into this work. And without seva (voluntary, selfless service), this work would not be where it is today.

We generate a large part of the funds we need to maintain our projects, retreats, and structures ourselves — with dedication and the desire to keep the knowledge alive. But in order to continue to nurture what is already growing and to allow new projects to emerge, we need your support.

Every donation helps to enable new courses, to further develop Soul University, to maintain our centers, to implement spiritual projects, and to accompany people on their path — regardless of their financial situation.

Our social initiatives, such as the construction of the eye clinic in Kabuku (Tanzania) or Baba's Table in Brno, can also only be continued through donations. Every contribution — whether small or large — is part of this shared flow.
