HOW TO STUDY THE COURSE

This course is designed to provide students with the knowledge and understanding of orthodontic nursing which will allow them to succeed in the exam.

The course takes place over 9 months of guided learning requiring approximately 2 hours of study per week in the first six months. This will be delivered online with a specialist orthodontic tutor at an evening class for six months. The remaining three months allows for completion of the Record of Competence (ROC). Continuing support will be given by the tutor during this time.

HOW IS THE COURSE DELIVERED?

Similar to the classroom activities that your tutor designs to develop and support learning, we have included guided learning tasks to increase our students understanding and knowledge.

The online learning experience includes a combination of materials and learning resources to guide and support students as independent online learners. These include:

- Live training webinars.
- Exclusive, unique animations.
- Suggested reading materials.
- Key documents.
- Guided learning tasks.
- Progress assessment.

All these learning resources are available for our students to study at the time that best suits them as supported independent learners. The tutor will give support throughout their work for the record of competence.

RECORD OF COMPETENCE

To achieve a certificate in orthodontic nursing, students are required to complete a workplace record of competence. There are 4 sections:

1. Practical competence assessment sheets (PCAS)
2. Supplementary outcomes
3. Case studies
4. Directly observed clinical skills assessment (DOCS)

EXAMINATION

There is a 90-minute written exam composing of two sections.

- Part A: multiple choice questions (MCQ)
- Part B: extended matching questions (EMQ)

Exams are held twice a year in March and September.

ADDITIONAL LEARNING NEEDS

As this is an online course, the learner can readily adapt materials to support individual additional learning needs. The use of a computer is essential to attend classes. We provide transcript and PDF's of all video materials as well as pastoral advice.
