International Foundation Programme

This programme is managed by the University of Limerick Language Centre. It is a one-year full-time programme that offers international high school students an alternative route to undergraduate study. It is suitable for international students who do not hold qualifications equivalent to the Irish Leaving Certificate or A-Level, or who need a further boost to their English language skills.

Students who have completed high school through the medium of English can choose a 'Foundation Plus' programme which focuses less on English language and more on academic modules.

There are three streams:

- Foundation in Science & Engineering
- Foundation in Arts, Law & Humanities
- Foundation in Business

The English language required is an IELTS score of 5.0, with no less than 5.0 in any one component, or the equivalent in a different qualification.

www.ul.ie/languagecentre

Further to this, offer holders who do not meet the English Language Requirements above can, if they wish study pre-sessional English language classes at the UL Language Centre which is located on the UL Campus.

For more information on preparatory language classes, please email: language.centre@ul.ie

Preparation for University Programmes

The University of Limerick Language Centre offers a variety of courses aimed at making sure that each student reaches their language goals.

The Preparation for University programme caters for the language needs of students who intend to study for an undergraduate or postgraduate degree at University of Limerick. It is designed for students who have reached the academic entry requirements for their chosen degree but need to improve their English in order to meet the English language entry requirement. It is suitable for applicants who have received a conditional offer from University of Limerick. Programme length varies depending on level of English.

Students who achieve a final passing grade in pre-sessional English exams will have met the English language requirements for entry to the majority of programmes at University of Limerick (equivalent IELTS 6.5). It will not be necessary for such students to take an external English language test at the end of the Preparation for University programme.

Structured and Research PhD

PhD programmes (both structured and traditional) at the University of Limerick are designed to support you in achieving your academic and professional objectives.Typically taking four years to complete, a PhD provides you with a range of skills, such as networking and communications, leadership, and the ability to publish your research findings. The outcome of your research is a thesis, on which you will be examined orally (a viva voce examination).

Postgraduate research students benefit from the experience of international researchers and the availability of state-of-the-art equipment at our research institutes and centres. UL has strong links with industry from undergraduate to postdoctoral level. The employment rate of our graduates has always been exceptional. Our figures show that over 87% of UL Research master's graduates and 96% of PhD graduates are engaged in employment or further study following graduation.

Applying for Postgraduate Research Degree

The first step in applying for a graduate research position is to identify a potential supervisor and project. If you have difficulty in identifying a potential supervisor, you should complete an expression of interest form available from how to apply under research degree programmes. Once you have identified a supervisor and project, you should complete a research application form and submit it to the Graduate & Professional Studies Office. Application forms are available at www.ul.ie/gps/about/how-apply

UL accepts research applications throughout the year.

The minimum entry requirement to a postgraduate research degree is an honours primary degree (level 8 – as defined by the National Qualifications Authority of Ireland) with a minimum classification of a 2:1 or 2:2. Individual faculties or research centres may have specific entry requirements.

In addition to the minimum entry requirements specified above, international student applicants are required to meet the following standard English language requirements: IELTS score of 6–6.5 and not less than 6 in any one component for entry to the Faculty of Science & Engineering and a composite score in the range of 6.5–7 and not less than 6 in any one component for entry to t he Faculties of Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences, Education & Health Sciences and the Kemmy Business School.

Funding

Funding for postgraduate research is available from a variety of sources. Individual faculties at UL may offer scholarships or funded positions while external funding is available from Irish and international research councils, other public bodies and the private sector. The main research council in Ireland is the Irish Research Council, which funds postgraduate scholarships for Science, Engineering and Technology and Humanities and Social Sciences.
