Dear Parent/Carer

SQA 2022 - Update

We wanted to take this opportunity to update you with the current advice coming from SQA with regards to the exam diet for session 2022. As you may be aware in August 2021 the Scottish Government announced that SQA Examinations will take place - if safe to do so - in spring 2022. This exam diet will follow a more "normal" format but will maintain some of the modifications made last session with regards to coursework and school based assessments. This will be the case unless there is a further disruption to schools as a result of the pandemic. The SQA will make any further adjustments by the end of March 2022.

The SQA have written a message to all parents/carers which can be found through the following link... a message for parents and carers this will help to further clarify the approach to awarding in 2021-22 and includes a copy of the Exam Timetable 2022.

With this in mind and after consultation with staff and the senior pupil council we feel that it is important that we prepare our pupils for any eventuality moving forwards but importantly to give our pupils a preparation experience of the final exam process through a prelim diet. This will allow pupils to experience the process they will face come May. We will therefore be engaging with a prelim diet this session which will take place over several weeks beginning in January 2022.

As always and has been the norm over the past eighteen months we will endeavour to keep you updated with any further changes that may come our way. In the meantime if you feel there is anything your young person needs support with or further clarification on please do not hesitate to contact the school through our general school email braeshighschool@falkirk.gov.uk

Once again, can we take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support for both your child and the school during these times.

Kind regards

D. Ironside
