Testimonials

“Attending Medical Technology UK 2025 proved to be a smart, high-impact move. With strong footfall, quality conversations, and real business generated, it offered meaningful engagement with both start-ups and established players. The event provided a valuable platform to showcase our lab's capabilities in medical device testing, strengthen industry connections, and gain insight into evolving R&D and regulatory trends.

Marianne Browning, Business Development Manager, Test Labs

“MSS had the privilege of participating in the MTUK event, held at Coventry Arena, UK. The event was exceptionally well-organized and well-attended, further cementing its status as a premier gathering for the Med-Tech industry. Each year, MTUK continues to grow in both stature and reputation, attracting industry leaders, innovators, and professionals from across the sector.

Anastasija Mathias, Founder/CMO, Mathias Synergy Solutions

Testimonials Continued

“ I’m here to support Women in MedTech Forum. We talk about getting children and young girls interested in STEM. We need to keep them in medtech so this is a great opportunity to see where businesses are adding medical devices into the UK, but also to drive networking for women.

---

Lynn Heaver, Director, Regulatory Affairs,
UK & Ireland, Johnson & Johnson MedTech

“ The Women in MedTech Forum was such a great session! I’ve never been at a conference before where people stayed behind an hour after it finished to continue the discussion!

---

Michelle Sullivan, Head of Public Affairs, UK & Ireland, Boston Scientific

“ We are delighted to be at Medical Technology UK in a high value sector. It’s a show that we and our members fully support and it’s an excellent opportunity to network.

Alan Arthur,
CEO, GTMA

“ The energy at Medical Technology UK in Coventry was incredible! It was fantastic to catch up with familiar faces and immerse myself in conversations about the latest innovations shaping the MedTech space. Looking forward to building on these connections and seeing how the MedTech landscape evolves in the coming months!

---

Sriya Deokar,
MBA, Co-Founder & CRO,
Mulder Tech

“ We’re here to connect with our industry peers and stay up to date with all the new things in medical innovation. We’re a contract manufacturer of medical devices and it’s a great opportunity to share what we do with our customers.

---

James Fenton, Managing Director, Meridian Medical

“ The 2025 show for us was a great success for our continued brand awareness campaign. This growing show is a must for connecting with UK and European Medical Technology manufacturers and suppliers. Being part of the largest group of dedicated Medical Technology Shows in the UK, Ireland and Germany gives a huge foothold and network connections in the industry.

---

Chris Philpott, Senior Business Development
Manager, Life Science & Consumer Europe,
Sybridge Technologies

“ Taken some strong UK-based leads from potential new customers, which is traditionally quite tricky to do including leads from universities on both days.

---

James Billingsley, Technical Sales Engineer, Mectech Automation Group

“ The show provides really great leads and opportunities. It’s a good networking opportunity to meet suppliers, competitors and customers. I find it a very good Show.

Darren Vine,
Director Sales for Europe & Global Marketing,
Tegra Medical
