

The Planets Song

Mercury is nearest to the sun
Venus, she is the brightest one
Earth with precious water shines so blue
Mars is rocky with a reddish hue
Jupiter, the giant of them all
Swirling gases in a mighty ball
Saturn is surrounded by her rings
Uranus lies sideways as she spins
Neptune is in twilight all the day
Pluto is so very far away

Spinning and turning, circling and whirling
Nine might planets like nine distant friends
Never meeting, never ceasing
On a journey that never ends
