- 14.4. In case of transfer of products, additional charges might apply based on the applicable symbol and the rates set by our providers. These charges may vary depending on the provider's pricing structure.

- 14.5. The Client understands, acknowledges and consent that any Market Data presented in NAGA's Website and/or Platform(s) will be provided or made accessible for convenience and information only solely to assist them to make their own investment decisions and does not amount to an investment advice. The data will therefore be provided to or made accessible to them without any liability, and they should not rely upon the market data in any way. In particular, any price quoted in the Market Data may differ from the execution price they actually obtain.
- 14.6. The Company in its sole discretion and option may decline to execute any order, for a variety of reasons, including, but not limited to, the size of an order, the market conditions, a violation of any applicable rules or regulations related to Client's orders, insufficient or inadequate securities or liquid funds in Client's Account.
- 14.7. The Client understands and acknowledges that there is no guarantee that his/her order will be filled in full or in part. Where a delay occurs for any reason, NAGA will attempt to execute the order as soon as reasonably practicable. The Client acknowledges and accepts that the market price of the Real Stock may have moved during the time between our receipt and acceptance of their order and our attempt to execute order. In these circumstances, the third- party who has provided the quotation to us is not obliged to honor the indicative price the client has received and, if that is the case, we may reject client's order. Such movements in price may be in your favor or against them.
- 14.8. The Client acknowledges that it may not be possible to cancel or modify an order. Any attempt to cancel or modify an order is simply a request to us to do so. NAGA is not liable to you if we are unable to cancel or modify an order. The Client understands and agrees that, if an order cannot be cancelled or modified, he/she is bound by any execution of the original order. The Client further acknowledges that attempts to modify or cancel and replace an order can result in an over-execution of the order or the execution of duplicate orders and that he/she shall be responsible for all such over-executions or duplications. If the Client enters a cancellation request, he/she agrees to confirm that the cancellation request has been affected prior to entering a replacement order.
- 14.9. The Client acknowledges that if he/she places an order (whether during normal market hours or when the market is closed), then he/she agrees to pay or receive the prevailing market price at the time their market order is executed. The Client understands that the price he/she pays may be significantly higher or lower than he/she had anticipated at the time they placed the order. To avoid paying a higher price and possibly exceeding his/her purchasing power or selling it at a lower price than he/she would like.
- The Client may choose to enter a Limit Order.
- 14.10. NAGA will inform the client accordingly if a Limit Order related to Real Stock admitted to trading on a regulated market cannot immediately be executed under prevailing market conditions, unless NAGA expressly agrees otherwise.
- 14.11. The Company agrees that if a Real Stock that the Client holds in his/her Account is likely to be delisted, the Company will promptly inform the Client accordingly.
- 14.12. The Client shall only sell Real Stocks held on his/her account. If the client will instruct NAGA to sell a Real Stock that he/she does not own at the time of the sale and that is not held on the account ("Short Transaction"), such instruction shall be an order of CFD transaction in that underlying asset, regardless of the leverage which varies across the client's categorization and actual product traded.
- 14.13. The Client acknowledges that NAGA may deal through exchanges and a number of Market Makers, as listed in the Company's Order Execution Policy. NAGA may place the client order outside of an Exchange if this satisfies our Order Execution Policy. By accepting this Agreement, the client agrees to NAGA entering into transactions on his/her behalf outside a regulated market.

- 14.14. The client understands that the Company may act as principal or on a matched principal basis when providing its Clients' with the Transferable Securities and ETFs trading services. This means the Company might be the counterparty to clients' trades.
- 14.15. To ensure the execution of Client's order, NAGA may aggregate orders received from its Clients. Aggregation means that we may combine your order with those of other clients of ours for execution as a single order. We may combine clients' order to deal with those of other clients if NAGA reasonably believe that this is in the overall best interests of its clients as a whole.
- 14.16. The Client acknowledges that NAGA is not obligated to notify the client or arrange attendance at any annual general meetings or extraordinary general meetings applicable to his/her Real Stocks, and/or arrange the exercise of any voting rights attaching to the Real Stocks NAGA holds on behalf of the client, whether exercisable at an annual general meeting or otherwise.
- 14.17. The Client agrees that since the Company will hold his/her Real Stocks in one or more pooled accounts, the client may receive dividends or distributions net of applicable taxes which has been paid or withheld at rates that are less beneficial than those that might apply if the Real Stock were held in the client's own name or not pooled. You should expect the dividend payment of such Real Stocks to be credited in your account once such payment is distributed by the issuer.
- 14.18. NAGA acknowledges its obligation to report the statement of the client's financial instruments monthly, such statements will be provided through the accepted durable medium. Upon client's request the client, NAGA shall provide the aforesaid statement on a more frequent basis at no cost.
- 14.19. The client understands that the Company is not required to assess the appropriateness of the product or service provided to Clients related to Transactions in non-complex products (e.g. shares) and in such case, you will not benefit from the protection of the CySEC rules on assessing appropriateness.
- 14.19 The Client acknowledges the risks involved in the trading activity of CFDs and investment in real stocks, using the same account. Trading and investment using the same account increases the risk in invested capital and in the accumulated margin calculation. Client should not invest funds that cannot afford to lose. If a Client choose to enter into a business relationship with NAGA, it is important that he remains aware of the risks involved, that he has adequate financial resources to bear such risks and that he monitor his positions carefully. The Client acknowledges that he is responsible to open and monitor separate accounts for trading in CFDs and investment in real stocks to minimize the risks.

15. CORPORATE ACTIONS

- 15.1 CFDs are subject to corporate actions including dividend adjustments. The Company may make dividend adjustments in the Client Trading Account if a dividend is scheduled to be paid to the holders of the underlying Assets of the CFDs. These adjustments are normally made on the ex-dividend date. Long positions receive adjustments, whereas Short Positions are charged where applicable.

A mandatory corporate event is an event initiated by a public company which affects its share/equity.

Mandatory corporate events among others can be:

- Dividends: Part of corporate profits are allocated to shareholders. Dividends related to stock positions are booked on pay date based on the eligible holding on the previous date, the ex-date. Dividend payments will be credited with any applicable withholding taxes deducted (applicable only for Long/Buy positions).

- Stock split / Reverse stock split: Increase / decrease in a corporation's number of outstanding equities and the subsequent equity price and nominal value are adjusted accordingly. Such event will be affected on the ex-date.
- Bonus Shares: Additional stocks are allocated on ex-date based on the eligible holding on the date prior the ex-date and will be available for trading, post value date upon receipt from agent. Such events may be dealt with either by providing the additional stock(s) to the client's account or by crediting the value of the said share to the client's account.
- Liquidation: Financial instruments of the company that is under the liquidation process, held by the clients will be removed from client's accounts. Liquidation proceeds, if any, will be credited to client's accounts upon receipt.
- Spin-off: The parent company's shares lose value following a spinoff, due to the creation of a new and independent company, through the distribution of new shares of the parent company. Holders of the said financial instrument, receive equivalent shares of the new company as compensation.
- Mergers: A merger happens when two companies combine to form a single entity. Public companies often merge with the declared goal of increasing shareholder value, by gaining market share or from entering new business segments. Relevant adjustments will be reflected to the client's accounts. Special corporate events which are not included under this section which might be special and/or infrequent will be handled by the Company in the best interest of clients to the extent that time and operational process permits and at the Company's discretion do not affect the Company's financial position and put it in danger.

In the case where an instrument offered by the company becomes subject to a corporate event, it may be dealt with either by providing the additional financial instruments to the client's account or may result in a cash adjustment, by crediting the value of the said financial instrument to the client's account. In any case, the client's account will reflect the adjusted value and/or the number of shares following the changes that occurred.

For the cases where the relevant adjustments shall take place, but the pay date of the event is not confirmed or beyond the tradeable cycle, or due to technical limitations, the Company will process these adjustments manually and each client will be informed accordingly. Resultant adjustments will be booked to clients' account as soon as available/possible.

If you do not promptly agree to any amendment made which we propose under this clause [which we will notify you via the Website and/or Platform(s) or any durable medium through which you obtain information] we may void any transaction resulting from or deriving from a Price Error, such that the result is the same as if it had never been made; and/or
 - 16.3.3. Not take any action at all.
- 16.4. NAGA may take any reasonable steps for any trades executed at prices resulting from a Price Error(s) (as defined herein), such as computer errors, misquotes or omissions, or at prices that are clearly at odds with the fair market prices.  - 16.4.2. close the trade at the current market prices; or
 - 16.4.3. amend the opening and/or the closing price of the trade, as if it would have been executed in the absence of the Price Error.
- 16.5. We will not be liable to you for any loss, cost, claim, demand or expense that you suffer (including loss of profits or any indirect or consequential losses) resulting from a Price Error, including where the Price Error is made by any information source or from our decision to do anything under sub-clause 15.3 above, except to the extent that it is caused by our own fraud, willful default, system error or gross negligence.
- 16.6. If a Price Error has occurred and we choose to exercise any of our rights under sub-clause 15.3, and if you have received any monies from us in connection with the Price Error, those monies are due and payable to us with immediate effect, and you must return an equal sum to us without delay.
- 16.7. We reserve the right to refuse any trades placed by you that we judge to be clearly outside the prevailing market price such that they may be deemed non-market price transactions, whether due to Price Error or stale, incorrect or broken price feeds.

- 24.4. The Parties mutually agree and understand that the Company may keep merchant accounts in its name with payment services providers used to settle payment transactions of its Clients. However, for the avoidance of doubt, it is noted that such merchant accounts are not used for safekeeping of Client money but only to effect settlements of payment transactions.
- 24.5. By accepting the Agreement and commencing a business relationship with the Company, the Client expressly provides their consent for keeping their funds in an omnibus account. This means that all Client Money is treated as belonging to the Company's Clients, and under no circumstance the Company will use it to meet any of its obligations, at any time. An omnibus account means that Clients' funds will be pooled with money belonging to other Clients in a Segregated Account.
- 24.6. In general, accounts held with financial institutions, including omnibus accounts, face various risks. For instance, in the event of default, no single Client will have a claim against a specific sum in a specific account in the event of insolvency or default of the institution. Any Client claim shall be against the money held in the Segregated Account, according to the laws of that jurisdiction. Under such circumstances, the enforcement of the respective national deposit guarantee scheme may apply without consideration of the ultimate beneficial owners of an omnibus account.

- 24.7. Client Money held in Segregated Account(s) may be exposed to obligations of the Company, connected with the Positions of the other Clients. Where the Company is or become unable to meet the above obligations and the Client has been categorized as Retail Client, they are entitled to compensation from the Investor Compensation Fund (ICF). The Company is a member of the ICF. So, depending on their classification, the Client may be entitled to compensation from the ICF in the event that the Company is unable to meet its obligations. More details are found in the Company's document "Investor Compensation Fund", found on the Company's Website.
- 24.8. Importantly, the Investor Compensation Fund is only applicable to regulated products.
- 24.9. The Company has duty to and shall exercise due skill, care and diligence in the selection of the financial institution. However, it is understood that there are circumstances beyond the control of the Company and hence the Company does not accept any liability or responsibility for any resulting losses to the Client as a result of the insolvency or any other analogous proceedings or failure of the financial institution where Client money will be held.
- 24.10. The Client understands, accepts and agrees herewith that when holding funds belonging to Clients, the Company must make adequate arrangements to safeguard Clients' rights and, except in the case of credit institutions, prevent the use of Client funds for its own account. The Client understands, accepts and agrees herewith that the Company is able to use the Margin in the following circumstances: (a) as long as the Margin remains in the Client's account, the Client agrees that the Company has the right to transfer ownership of the Client's Margin from the Client to the Company, to be kept by the latter as security, and be returned by the Company to the Client on completion of the Client's trade(s) and (b) in this case, the Margin will be considered as debt due by the Company to the Client and not as Client money, therefore it could be used by the Company subject to the repayment obligation(s). Irrespective of the above, the Balance and equity of the Client's account(s) remain unaffected and the Client may normally continue their trading and/ or other activity.
- 24.11. Provided that the Company complies with its legal obligations, it can hold Client Money outside of the EEA. Any such Client Money will be subject to the laws of that territory and therefore Clients' rights differ accordingly. According to applicable legislation, the Company will apply adequate organizational arrangements to comply with any requirement with regards to Client Money and will exercise all due skill, care and diligence in the selection, appointment and periodic review of the third party and of the arrangements for the holding and safekeeping of those Financial Instruments. Yet, the Company will not be held responsible for the solvency, acts or omissions of any institution with which Client Money is held, regardless of the jurisdiction.
- 24.12. The Company will carry out reconciliation of funds on a regular basis as per applicable legislation and in line with its internal policies and procedures, and will proceed with any required transfer to, or from the Segregated Account on the next Business Day, unless this is not possible for any reason.
- 24.13. Any amounts corresponding to liabilities that Client has towards the Company, including liabilities arising as a result of abusing the Negative Balance Protection (NBP), can be deducted directly from the balance of any of the Client's Account(s) under their profile.

- 24.14. The Company, upon its discretion, may place the Client's money into units or shares in a qualifying money market fund rather than holding them in a Client Money account. The Client's money will therefore not be held as Client Money in accordance with the applicable CySEC rules on safeguarding, but the units or shares will be held as safe custody assets in accordance with applicable CySEC rules on safe custody. Under the relevant CySEC rules, the Company will separate the units or shares in the qualifying money market fund from the Company's own.
- 24.15. The Company will not pay the Client any interest earned on the units or shares in the qualifying money market fund.
- 24.16. The Client has the right to withdraw any part of the Client Money equal to the Free Margin available in their Account(s), subject to any applicable restrictions regarding the account's operation, and any other right or limitation on such withdrawal. The Company reserves the right to reject a withdrawal request in instances where the Company has reasonable grounds to believe that the said instruction is being placed to abuse the Company's NBP Policy. Further information on withdrawal times can be found on the Company's Website.
- 24.17. Transfer of funds will take place once the debits or credits have been processed in the Company's systems and while the Company will try to the best of its ability to effect the payments promptly and efficiently, the Company cannot guarantee how long the process could take. It is the Client's responsibility to provide the appropriate and accurate information in a timely manner, in order to avoid any further delays.
- 24.18. Any funds transferred to the Company for the purposes of funding a Trading Account, can only be deposited at the Value Date after any fees related to banking charges or transfer fees have been deducted. It is in the Company's discretion, and provided that the Client has delivered a validated proof of payment, to credit funds ahead of the Value Date even if they are still in transfer.
- 24.19. The Company reserves the right to request additional information and/or documentation, at any time, in order to be satisfied that Clients' dealings with the Company, including, but not limited to deposits and withdrawals, are legitimate or for any other reason so as to fulfil and comply with the Company's regulatory obligations. The Client is responsible for providing the Company with complete and accurate information and failure to do so may result in delays with processing any requests, and/or any of the Client's requests may be rejected. Any refund will be sent to the same source from where the funds were received. The Company will only deviate from this policy where it has been satisfied that this will not be contrary to any of its policies and applicable legislation.
- 24.20. The Company reserves the rights to request updated Know-Your-Client documentation (i.e., proof of identity and/or proof of address), if those documents are expired, upon a withdrawal request. The Company reserves the right to reject any withdrawal request unless the Know-Your-Client documentation are duly updated and properly in place, to maintain the Company's ongoing compliance with the applicable rules and regulations.
- 24.21. It is part of the Company's policy to ensure that all withdrawals, either in part or in full of the funds a Client deposits with the Company, are sent to the same source where the funds came from. Where the Company is unable to do so, for whatever reason, and subject to any restriction under the regulatory regime, it shall return the funds as requested, in part or in full, net of any transfer fees, charges or other deductions incurred by the Company.

- 24.22. The Company reserves the right to accept or decline any funding and/or withdrawal request by the Client depending on the payment method the Client chooses, and the Company may suggest to the Client an alternative for their request. More information on the Company's accepted payment methods can be found on the Company's Website. For instance, where a Client has requested to withdraw with a different method compared to the method they used to deposit, the request may be rejected, and the Client will be permitted to withdraw via another method they have used in the past.
- 24.23. The Company will process any funding request in accordance with applicable rules and regulations, therefore, any requests which are not in line with the Company's legal obligations may not be processed. For example, this may include instances where the Company is not satisfied with the documentation provided by the Client. In this case, the Company reserves the right to reverse the Transaction in part or in full, net of any transfer fees, charges or other deductions incurred by the Company. The Client understands that there may be instances where the Company will be unable to provide the Client with an explanation as to why the Company cannot proceed with their request.
- 24.24. The Company will take reasonable steps to ensure keeping the Client informed about the progress of any funding and/or withdrawal request, specifically in relation to processing times and any required documentation that if not in place may result in delays. Further information about the processing times can be found on the Company's Website; however, this information is provided for indicative purposes only. The Client understands that there may be instances where the Company cannot guarantee these times because of events outside of its control.
- 24.25. In case the Client receives money from the Company by mistake, the Client agrees to hold such amount of money in trust for the benefit of the Company or the beneficial owner. If the Client uses any of the funds that were sent by mistake, the Company will claim those funds, together with any profit derived from the use of those funds, on behalf of the beneficial owner. In the same way, the Company shall not compensate the Client for any losses incurred as a result of using the said funds. The claim for the full amount shall remain.
- 24.26. There are cases where the Company is required by law and/or any applicable rules to deduct or credit any amount from Clients' Account(s). The Company will try its best efforts to avoid deducting an amount unless this is necessary. Examples of when this right may be exercised includes instances where for some offered instruments, it may be required to withhold part of the profit for tax purposes.
- 24.27. The Client understands and accepts that the Company reserves the right to set-off any liability of the Client under the Agreement. Where the liabilities to be set-off are expressed in different currencies, the Company may convert the said liabilities at a market rate of exchange.
- 24.28. The Client understands and accepts that the Company reserves the right to net-off any amount due by deducting it from the Client's Account(s). Where this is done the Company will consider the obligation as satisfied and discharged. The Company reserves its rights on any obligation, which cannot be considered satisfied.
- 24.29. Where an Account is inactive for a period of five (5) years with a positive balance (i.e. there are funds available on Clients' Account) and during that period no Transactions have been carried out in relation to the account or on the instructions of the holder of the account and the Company is unable to contact the Client after it takes reasonable efforts to achieve this, the Company has the right to cease treating those funds as Client Money and make a deduction from Client's Account. If the Client later makes a valid claim to the Company, the Company may pay any amount owed to the Client.

- 24.30. The Client acknowledges that NAGA may appoint any other person as a sub-custodian or otherwise hold any Real Stocks, including documents of title or certificates evidencing title to such Real Stocks. NAGA will exercise reasonable skill and care in the selection, appointment and periodic review of sub-custodians. Any discrepancy in terms of client assets and any resulting shortfall will be dealt with in accordance with any applicable regulations. Real Stocks will be registered in the same name as those of other clients (pooled together with other clients' Instruments). If the Company or its third-party nominee were to become insolvent there may be delays in identifying individual assets, and possibly an increased risk of loss if there should be a shortfall because additional time will be needed to identify the assets held for specific clients.
- 24.31. The Client acknowledges that in the event that the Company did not receive instructions from the Client in relation to any of the Real Stocks held in his/her account (e.g. to purchase, sell or move the assets) for a period of at least twelve years (notwithstanding any receipts of dividends or interest or similar items and irrespective of any movement of your account balance) and NAGA is unable to trace the client despite having taken reasonable steps to do so, that NAGA may cease to treat your assets as client assets.

SCHEDULE B: COPY TRADING

This Schedule B sets out the specific terms that will apply to you when using the copy trading functionality on the NAGA platform.

1. What is copy trading

- 1.1 When using the copy trading services, you are agreeing to use our investment management services.
- 1.2 The NAGA platform provides you with the ability to interact, follow and copy other traders, strategies and/or portfolios by using the information, as well as providing you with "social trading features". Social trading features include detailed account information, trading histories, risk profiles, and other information in relation to NAGA traders, strategies and/or portfolios that may be useful to you when deciding whether to copy such NAGA trader, strategy and/or portfolio.
- 1.3 Copy trading is a trading functionality which allows you to copy the account of other traders. You do this by either copying a specific NAGA trader account. By placing a copy order, you authorise us to automatically recreate this account for you in your NAGA account without any prior consultation, consent, or approval. For example, we may start copy trading, stop copy trading and/or pause the copying of the copied trader, account, portfolio and/or strategy and set limits to any position etc.

2. Our copy trading service

- 2.1 Our Social Trading Features Services assists the Client in testing, evaluating and selecting the Client's investment strategy by providing the Client with detailed account information, trading history, risk profile and other pertinent information that the Client should consider before electing to copy a specific account. In doing so, the Client should bear in mind all aspects and factors including, but not limited to, the risk nature of the copied account and investment objectives.
- 2.2 The Company does not provide investment advice, nor provide any personalized investment recommendations and/or advise the Client on the merits of any investments, either with respect to our Social Trading/Copying Trades services or any Service.
- 2.3 In deciding to Copy a specific trader or traders, strategy and/or portfolio, the Client has considered his/her entire financial situation including financial commitments and the Client understands that using Social Trading Features is highly speculative and that the Client could sustain significant losses exceeding the amount used to copy a trader or traders, and the Client cannot lose more than the equity in the Client's account. Please note that the Company is unable to provide any guarantee as to the performance of any particular investment, account, portfolio or strategy.
- 2.4 Without derogating from the generality of the foregoing, the Client acknowledges the Risks Associated with Social Trading Features and particularly Social Trading/Copying Trades Services, as more fully described herein, including but not limited to, automated trading execution whereby the opening and closing of trades will happen in the Client's account without the Client's manual intervention unless the Client choose to close the copy trade and take decisions independently from the master trader.
- 2.5 The Client further authorizes the Company to execute any and all transactions and/or positions undertaken by the trader, account, portfolio and/or strategy the Client chose to Social Trading/Copying Trades, including without limitation, Social Trading/Copying Trades, stop Social Trading/Copying Trades and/or pause Social Trading/Copying Trades another trader, account, portfolio and/or strategy and setting limits to any position (including copy position). These actions are done automatically once initiated by the Client and do not require any prior consultation, consent or approval of ongoing activity/copied trades. The Client hereby confirms and acknowledges that at any time, and upon the Company's sole discretion, the Company can stop, pause, restrict and/or limit any Social Trading/Copying Trades activity performed by the Client.

3. Regulatory status of the copy trading service and suitability assessment

- 3.1 Our copy trading functionality may amount to a form of discretionary investment management. This means that, before you can engage in copy trading, we are required by law to assess whether copy trading is a suitable investment tool for you and under what conditions (the "Suitability Assessment"). The result of the Suitability Assessment is determined by information and documents provided to us by you, which you can update at any time should there is an update or change in your investment profile.
- 3.2 We will establish your investment profile on the basis of your Suitability Assessment, and your ability to enter into copy trades may be limited by your Suitability Assessment. If we determine that copy trading is not a suitable investment tool for you, then you will not be permitted to access the copy trading functionalities of the NAGA platform. We are not liable for any losses that you suffer as a result of providing false or misleading information as part of your Suitability Assessment, including where this leads to us creating an inaccurate investment profile for you.

4. Limitations to our copy trading service

- 4.1 We do not provide personalised investment recommendations, investment advice, tax related advice or other financial related advice of any kind. Any explanation or information which we give to you as part of a copy trade, or about the performance of the copy trade is not intended to be and should not be considered as advice. This information is provided by us solely for informational purposes.
- 4.2 The Client herewith acknowledges, understands, accepts, and agrees that the copy trading functionality does not apply to Close By and Partially Close options of trades and/or positions and that you are solely responsible for monitoring and/or check your own trades and/or copy trades, which may be opened or closed while engaging in copy trading services of the Company and the Company will not be held responsible or liable for any losses that may result from those decisions and/or actions and/or omissions.
- 4.3 You should use any information gathered from our website or social trading features as a starting point for your own independent research and investment decision making. However, you should not make investment decisions based on information provided on the NAGA platform or NAGA Community.
- 4.4 We will take reasonable steps to monitor the performance of any copied trader under the copy trading functionality, as well as the performance of the different trading strategies and portfolios under the copy trading functionality. We reserve the right to pause, stop, or block:
 - a) any NAGA trader from being copied under the copy trading functionality; and
 - b) any portfolio of trading strategy from being copied under the copy trading functionality.

You are solely responsible for monitoring and/or checking your own trades and/or copy trades, which may be open or close while engaging in copy trading services of the Company and the Company will not be held responsible or liable for any losses that may result from those decisions and/or actions and/or omissions.

5. The key risks of copy trading

- 5.1 In making a decision to copy a specific trader or traders, strategy and/or portfolio, you should consider your financial situation, including your financial commitments. You should understand that copy trading is highly speculative and that you could sustain significant losses exceeding the amount used to copy a trader or traders as a result of the following:
- (a) it will involve automated trading execution whereby trades are opened and closed in your account without your manual intervention;
 - (b) if you manually modify or close an order generated by the copy trading functionality, you may achieve a materially different result than the trader that you copied;
 - (c) copied trades in amounts lower than the minimum trade will not be opened;
 - (d) if you are copying all trades which are currently open, we will open your position at the best available price at the time of copying and not the price at the time which the trade being copied was originally opened;
 - (e) cash-out and withdrawals by the copied trader, strategy and/or portfolio when you are using the copy trading functionality may also generate a materially different result than the trader that you copied as it may affect the copy trading proportions. This is due to a number of different factors including starting account balance, minimum trade size, the investor's account settings, differences in spread, interest and investment price at time of investment, and also the difference in fees that may be incurred;
 - (f) following/copying the trading decisions of inexperienced and/or unprofessional traders;
 - (g) following/copying traders whose ultimate purpose or intention, or financial status may differ from yours; and/or
 - (h) following and/or copying traders who trade products restricted as a result of Applicable Law in relation to your account and where a replacement equivalent trade cannot be executed may result in the economic performance, portfolio composition, risk rating and other factors relating to your portfolio deviating from the portfolio of the copied trader.
- 5.2 We are unable to provide any guarantee as to the performance of any particular investment, account, portfolio or strategy. Please refer to the Risk Disclosure which applies to the underlying product that you are copying for more information on the risks associated with trading that product.
- 5.3 Past performance, risk scores, statistics and any other information with respect to NAGA traders under our copy trading functionality, or of different portfolios and trading strategies under our copy trading functionality are not reliable indicators of future performance.
- 5.4 We do not represent or guarantee that you will achieve profits or losses similar to those shown on the NAGA trader or portfolio that you are copying. We also do not represent or guarantee that the risk score of a trader will accurately reflect the risk of their future performances.

6. Conflicts of interest

We are required to act in your best interest when providing our services. However, there may be instances where your interest conflicts with our interests, or with another client's interest. For example, with respect to copy trading, we may compensate Lead traders who you and/or others have elected to follow and/or copy.

7. Placing an order

- 7.1 Before you enter into the copy trade, you will need to allocate the amount of money you would like to put towards that copy trade. Such amount shall be allocated in transactions at the same proportion as it is allocated in the copied account. We will then automatically execute that order for you, which means we will not obtain your confirmation before we do this. The opening of such transactions shall not require any prior consultation, consent or approval. Trades below the minimum trade amount shall not be opened.
- 7.2 There are a number of order restrictions when copy trading, including on the minimum and maximum amount that can be invested in any NAGA trader or portfolio that you copy, the minimum amount on any single copy trade, and the maximum number of traders that you can copy.
- 7.3 When you are using our copy trading service, you can choose to copy:
- (a) only new trades which are opened after you begin to copy the trader's account. This means that we will not copy any trades in the trader's account which were entered into before this point.
- 7.4 When you are using our copy trading service, the copy trading functionality only permits you to copy new trades.
- 7.5 Notwithstanding paragraph 3.2, if you are copying all trades which are currently open, we will open your position at the best available price at the time of copying and not the price at the time which the trade being copied was originally opened. If the relevant markets are closed at the time of copying (for example during a market break) we will open a market order for you and once the market reopens, your order will be executed at the first available price.
- 7.6 Notwithstanding paragraph 3.2, if you are copying only new trades:
- (a) we will open your positions at the same time as the trades being copied; and
 - (b) all instructions and actions related to the copied trade will automatically be replicated in your NAGA account (subject to the trade size as explained above), including stop losses, take profits and the closing of trades. For example, if a trader that you are copying extends their stop loss by adding more funds to their account then your stop loss will be adjusted automatically to reflect this. However, your position amount will remain the same as its initial amount.
- 7.7 The copy trading service has a number of other functionalities that we may make available to you from time to time. However, we may add, remove, or change the availability and features of these functionalities, at our discretion. This may impact how you can use the copy trading service on our platform, for example whether you can copy all trades or only new trades of a trader or a portfolio.

8. Fees and costs

When you place a copy trade, we will charge you fees on the same basis as those charged to the copied account for the same trades. Please refer to the Copy Fee Schedule which applies to the underlying product that you are copying for more information on the fees and costs associated with that copy trade.

9. Auto-copy premium

- 9.1 NAGA Lead Traders can get paid for the profitable trades copied by other users. A Lead receives a percentage fee for each profitable trade every time it gets copied by other traders on NAGA. For detailed information on any fees or charges applicable to copy trading services, clients are advised to refer to the Company's official website and the Cost and Charges Policy, which are updated regularly to reflect current pricing and conditions.

- 9.2 Test accounts of the Company may occasionally copy NAGA Lead Traders for evaluation and testing purposes, at the discretion of the Company. In such cases, if the copied trades originate from test accounts, they should not be considered as actual, true and valid. The Company reserves the right to disclose relevant information to the Lead Trader if deemed necessary.
- 9.3 We will not be liable to you for any damages, loss, cost, claim, demand or expense that you suffer (including loss of profits or any indirect or consequential losses) resulting from a Price Error and/or Copy Trading Error, including where the Price Error or Copy Trading Error is made by any information source or from our decision to do anything under sub-clause 15.3 of the Client Agreement above or other, except to the extent that it is caused by our own fraud, willful default, system error or gross negligence.
- 9.4 The Company does not hereby guarantee the accuracy, correctness, or completeness of information available from its service and therefore will not be liable for any loss incurred.
- 9.5 It should be noted that VIP user levels and Lead Traders' schemes might not be provided by the Company based on Client's / Lead Traders' country of residence.

10. Liability

- 10.1 Subject to Applicable Law, neither the Company nor any affiliates or associate third parties will be liable for any losses arising from: (a) actions taken by us in order to carry out your written or spoken instructions; (b) decisions or actions taken by a NAGA trader that you have chosen to copy, including in connection with Portfolios; and/or (c) specific investment decisions or actions taken or omitted in good faith by any copied account strategy or portfolio, including portfolios controlled by Us.
