Protecting your confidential information is important to us and we want you to feel comfortable while visiting our website.

We take care and protect your personal data collected, processed and used during and after your visit to the website.

The terms of personal data processing when using the website are defined by this Privacy Policy, which in turn is developed on the basis of the “data protection policy” approved by us. This document is available on the website www.MyCoins.ge and you can read it.

By entering the website, you agree to this Privacy Policy (hereinafter - Policy)

If you do not agree to this policy, do not continue using the following pages of the website.

This policy may be updated from time to time. Therefore, please refer to it regularly. The last paragraph of this policy indicates the date when the policy was last updated.

What is the purpose of this policy and what is its scope?

“New Digital Technologies” LLC, its subsidiaries and/or affiliates (“MyCoins” or “we”) strive to protect the personal data of those who use the website. Accordingly, MyCoins has developed this policy to describe how and what information will be collected from users of the Website and to define the purposes for which MyCoins may collect, transfer or otherwise make such data available. MyCoins also takes all possible reasonable measures necessary to protect the security of your data.

This policy applies to all information that MyCoins obtains as a result of your use of the website. The Policy does not apply to third-party websites that are not affiliated with MyCoins, but may be linked to such websites through the MyCoins website (hereinafter referred to as Third-Party Websites). Please read the privacy policies of such third-party websites if you use their websites, as MyCoins is not responsible for, and has no influence over, the content of such third-party websites or their privacy practices.

The terms of this policy are subject to any additional terms or conditions entered into within your contractual relationship with MyCoins (if any) and other and any applicable laws or regulations with binding force.

What information do we collect from you and for what purpose?

When you visit the MyCoins website, our server automatically records details about your visit (for example, without limitation, your IP address, the website from which you visited our website, the type of Internet browser used during the visit, the type of device on which said browser is located, the specific pages of the MyCoins website that you actually visited and the date and duration of your visit to the website, etc.).

Additionally, we collect personal data that you provide to us through the MyCoins website, such as when you enter personal data (name, surname, gender, address, email address, phone/fax number, etc.) on the website's registration page or when you register to receive news on our website, or that is provided to us by third parties of which you are a customer/subscriber, for example, when you pay debts owed to such third parties and/or top up your subscription account balance.

MyCoins will use your personal data:

- for the purposes of technical administration of the website and its research and development;
- for client and user administration and marketing purposes;
- in relation to other electronic channels of MyCoins, for the aforementioned purposes;
- to provide you with information about our services and products;
- for other cases defined by this policy.

MyCoins complies with all applicable laws and regulations regarding our processing of personal data.

How do we collect and store information about you?

MyCoins uses technology such as cookies or tags (hereinafter - tracking technology) to collect the above information (see: What information do we collect from you and for what purpose?) and to understand how visitors use our website.

Ready entry or tagging technology helps us manage and improve the performance of the website, for example, based on whether there have been any connections between your computer and our website in the past, to identify the most popular sections of the website, and more.

Please ensure that your ready entry rules are written in such a way that you do not have any type of ready entry marked that you do not allow MyCoins to use.

When you save the rules for your ready entries, they also apply to your future visits to the MyCoins website. However, due to technical reasons behind MyCoins, this is not guaranteed. For example, if you reset/reinstall your Internet browser, clear your saved records, or visit the MyCoins website using a different browser or device, your saved records may be lost.

In many cases, you can also control tracking technologies through your Internet browser. Please ensure that your internet browser reflects whether you wish to be notified, where possible, of tracking technologies and/or their acceptance.

The special features of your Internet browser and instructions on how to use them can usually be found in the manual or in the “Help” section of your Internet browser.

Refusal to use tracking technologies or their deactivation may have a negative impact on the availability and proper functioning of the services offered by the MyCoins website or its various parts.

To whom do we share information collected about you from the website?

MyCoins may transfer your information to its affiliates, its or its affiliates' agents, or third parties providing services to MyCoins outside or within your country for the above purposes. Our affiliates, agents and third party service providers who have access to your personal data collected through the MyCoins website are also obligated to maintain the confidentiality of that data.

When we transfer personal data internationally, we ensure that we comply with applicable laws and regulations, for example by entering into appropriate agreements with those who receive your personal data from us to ensure that they are adequately protected.

We may also disclose your information to government agencies or entities, regulatory authorities or any other person pursuant to applicable laws, regulations, court orders or official requests, instructions and purposes issued by government regulatory authorities, or any similar process conducted under applicable law.

What security measures have we implemented to protect your information obtained through the website?

MyCoins has implemented all reasonable technical and organizational security measures available to it to protect your personal data obtained by MyCoins through the Website from unauthorized access, use, loss or destruction.

How do we treat electronic communications sent by and to MyCoins?

All electronic messages (SMS, mail, etc.) sent by MyCoins and to MyCoins are automatically stored by us in a special electronic log system that has the force of legal evidence. We protect them using reasonable technical and organizational measures, and access to them is allowed only in specific cases, in strict compliance with applicable laws and regulations (for example, a court order, suspicion of a crime, breach of regulatory obligations, material breach of an employment contract), by specific persons equipped with special functions (for example, the legal compliance or risk department). Each step of the process, including the search criteria used, is entered in a special audit field. All messages are destroyed after a reasonable retention period.

What should you consider when sending data over the Internet?

The Internet is not believed to be a secure environment, and information sent over the Internet (for example, using a website or electronic messaging system) may be accessed by unauthorized third parties, which may result in information disclosure, alteration of information containing material, or other technical errors. Regardless of whether the sender and recipient of the information are in the same country, information sent over the Internet may be transmitted across international borders and may end up in a country that, unlike your country, has weaker mechanisms for protecting personal data.

Please note that we are not responsible for the security of your information while it is being transmitted to MyCoins over the Internet. In order to protect the privacy of your data, we would like to remind you that you can choose the method you consider most suitable for communicating with MyCoins.

How do we handle information about persons under 18?

MyCoins does not provide services to persons who have not reached the age of 18, and therefore the website does not collect personal data from said persons. Persons under the age of 18 must obtain permission from their parents or legal guardians before submitting personal data to MyCoins through the Website.
