

Dear Colleague,

If you are a female clinician in LLR looking for leadership success, please join me at our Women in Clinical Leadership Conference 2020 which takes place on 26 November 2020 between 6.30 and 8.30pm.

Although women make up 62% of the workforce in Primary Care, they make up only 9% of the CCG clinical leadership. This figure is startling and demonstrates that more needs to be done to support and encourage our female clinicians to pursue leadership roles.

This will be a wonderful opportunity for all female clinicians at LLR CCGs and in Primary Care to come together and be inspired to become future leaders – not through lectures and theory but through real life stories of inspiration and the space to understand practical next steps.

We have an impressive line-up of keynote speakers, including Dr Nikki Kanani, Medical Director of Primary Care from NHSE&I, Dr Ursula Montgomery, Senior Clinical Advisor from NHSE&I and Dr Anu Rao from LMC.

Whether you're considering your first or next leadership role, looking for practical skills to become a leader, want to understand the characteristics of a leader or simply want to hear and share inspirational experiences, this space and time is for you to come together with other like-minded women.

We'll be discussing a Framework for Leadership from the NHS Leadership Academy and applying leadership dimensions to practical working. There will be plenty of opportunities for discussion and to ask questions throughout the evening.

Be inspired to become a future leader and book your ticket for our online event by registering here by Friday 20 November 2020.

I look forward to seeing you there.

Caroline Trevithick

Chief Nurse – LLR CCGs

Executive Director of Nursing, Quality and Performance
Leicester, Leicestershire and Rutland CCGs