Invitation to an urgent diplomatic briefing on the dangerous escalation in violations of rights of Palestinians in Israel, Gaza, and the West Bank

Yesh Din, together with six leading Israeli human rights organizations, invites you to attend an urgent diplomatic briefing to address the widespread violations of the rights of Palestinians in Israel, Gaza, and the West Bank during the current war.

Following Hamas's attack on October 7, and while the international spotlight is on Israel's aerial assault and the ensuing humanitarian crisis in Gaza, Israel's extreme-right government has pursued a radical agenda to violate the rights of Palestinians in prisons, in the West Bank, and within Israel. This includes a dramatic increase in settler-violence and forcible transfer, crackdown on freedom of speech and uptick in arrests of Palestinian citizens, denial of legal and family visits to Palestinians held in Israeli Prison Service settings, measures to adversely impact the health and well-being of Palestinians in incarceration, wholesale detention of Palestinians and ongoing West Bank closures that grievously harm the livelihood of Palestinians.

President Joe Biden Addresses Settler Violence

During a conference with Australian Prime Minister Anthony Albanese this week, President Biden said the attacks of Palestinians by extremist settlers amount to pouring gasoline on the already burning fires in the Middle East. Yesh Din welcomes this significant statement and calls upon the US government to demand that the Israeli government stop violence by Israeli settlers and security forces against West Bank Palestinians.
