Release of Updated Annexation Legislation Database

Consolidating all annexation-related bills presented to the Knesset since 2015

As the 37th Israeli government pursues its annexation policies in full-force, Yesh Din invites you to revisit our updated Annexation Legislation Database, a resource which consolidates all bills brought to the Knesset since 2015, focusing on those containing characteristics or elements related to the annexation of the West Bank.

This updated version of the database now includes an additional 53 bills, for a total of 137 bills, some of which were passed into law.

We have divided these annexationist bills into four categories:

- 1- The application of Israeli law and sovereignty;
- 2- Direct legislation by the Knesset over the occupied territory;

- 3- The transfer of authorities away from the military commander;
- 4- The blurring of the Green Line.

As we continue to regularly update the database, we trust that you will make good use of this resource to hold Israeli authorities accountable for these and other unilateral annexation measures and to join us in demanding an end to the apartheid regime in the West Bank.
