

John Henry (Henery) Carlin (Carolan)

We are looking for information about John Henry Carlin, born in Kinvara, left behind as an infant by his parents, Michael Carlin and Sabina Grady when they emigrated to the USA in about 1852. John Henry came to the USA, indicating he lived his entire early life in Kinvara, and rejoined his parents in 1866, ultimately farming in Fountain Prairie Wisconsin on land in the same county as his parents. After both of his parents and his wife died, with most of his children grown, he remarried and moved first to North Dakota and then ultimately Washington State.

We are interested in any information about where he grew up, with whom he stayed while a youth, what other Irish family members he had, anything on the part of his life while in Ireland. His father's records indicate he was from Co Clare. We don't yet have much information on his mother. We are searching through Irish Catholic church records on line, but haven't been successful yet.

Here is the information we have on John Henry Carlin per our research and records in the USA.
