I have received a new assortment of the above valuable and highly esteemed material, in the various articles generally used in Plate.
WILLIAM WHITESTONE,
No. 24 NORTH EARL-STREET.
My Warerooms and Extensive Premises are, as usual, well supplied with a large and well selected stock of GENERAL HOUSE FURNISHING IRONMONGERY, CUTLERY, JAPANNERY, &c.,
allowed to be the most varied, useful, and modern in the City, and marked at the lowest cash prices of the day.

REDUCTION IN THE PRICE OF THE BEST COLZA OIL.
Our Colza Oil, imported as usual from the Continent, has been chemically tested, and will amply bear out the report, of having "a pure and lasting body for combustion." We strongly recommend it to those whose inexperience in the management of Lamps may have induced them to purchase an inferior and unfit Oil at a nominally lower price. Such inferior Oil not only does not give the light expected, but will assuredly render the Lamp ultimately useless.
Having made the Repairs of Lamps for some years our study, we can testify to the fact that nine-tenths of the Lamps sent to us for Repair owe nearly all their defects to the use of inferior Oils.

SAUNDERS' PATENT COOKING RANGE.
Economy of Fuel.
Simplicity of Construction,
Perfection in Cooking.
The great prejudice that has hitherto prevailed against the use of close-fire Cooking Ranges has been entirely removed by Saunders's Patent, which is a perfect combination of the open and close-fire cooking apparatus.
The necessity of baking the meat in an oven (which is well known to be unwholesome and objectionable), and the extravagant waste of fuel is completely avoided. This range possesses capabilities hitherto unknown in a cooking apparatus; the roasting is performed before an open fire in a roasting screen under the hot plate; the roasting screen is convertible into an oven by inserting a sliding plate prepared for that purpose.
