Sarah Morrell - 'The King and the Cockerel'

Amazing local author and storyteller Sarah Morrell is coming to Honley Library with her book 'The King and the Cockerel.' Sarah will run a workshop for children Year 2 to Year 4 in which they can develop their own pop-up books and explore their creativity. Meanwhile younger children will work with Bridget and Carrie to explore the same story. With the help of their accompanying adults, children might create their own illustration through art, craft. Sarah will read the story to the whole group, using her clever props and her fantastic story voice. To finish, there could be an Egg Hunt in the library!

30 places: you can book places for this art and literacy workshop by visiting or phoning Honley Library, or through the website of Friends of Honley Library at:

The Odd Egg Easter Family Storywalk leaving the library at 2 p.m.

This is not your ordinary Easter egg hunt... follow a winding trail through town, village and park to collect all the different eggs and see who they all belong to. Duck is very proud of her egg, but when will it hatch? Get ready for the big reveal at the end when we will read Emily Gravett's beautiful picture book, "The Odd Egg" - and meet Duck's baby!

A story walk is an opportunity to bring books out of the library, to promote reading and libraries in an alternative environment, to bring stories to life and allow families to combine reading with physical activity. Storywalks give children the opportunity to develop literacy skills while playing and ensure the whole family partakes in fun, healthy outdoor exercise. Book your place online at:
