

OUR LADY OF VICTORIES

Wow! What a busy half term it has been for all the children at OLV, with lots of things going on! I'm going to focus on English and reading, as that is what I love!

We started the half term by launching our reading week theme of 'All things bright and beautiful'. Classes throughout the school really got behind this theme and took inspiration from nature to produce some fabulous poetry and artwork. We also continued with this theme for our World Book Day celebrations and a big thank you needs to go to our parents for some brilliant costumes. We had lions and butterflies, leopards and bees and even a hedgehog! The children had a great day getting involved in all the different reading activities.

During this half term, we created a school reading river that shows all the books that we have read as a school since September. It's definitely a conversation starter and it's been lovely listening to the children discussing the different books between them. We can't wait to add more exciting books to it!

We have also held reading cafes and ran book fair this half term helping to promote the importance of reading for pleasure and sharing a story.

I hope you all have a great book to read over the holidays!
