

STANTON NEWS

(Number 28 – 8th April 2019)

Dear Parents,

Here we are, the final week of the Spring Term! It has been a really busy one with lots more to fit into the next half term, especially SATS assessments, which is only a 4 week half term!

We have been told that it is very likely that we will receive 'handover' of the new build during the first week back after the Easter holiday, which is really exciting! We just can't wait to have assemblies in our new hall and eat our lunch in there too! It will make things so much easier for us all and mark the start of our new era. We are planning to put together a little display of photographs and articles to mark the history of our school and invite parents to come to have a browse and see the new build at the same time. This is provisionally in our diary for Tuesday 7th May at around 2.30 but we will keep you informed during the first week back and through the app.

We are also hoping to be able to share with you our new uniform and logo before we break up this week ☺ The winning entry is currently at the 2 suppliers we will be using and they are both liaising and finalising the logo and will send us the finished sample as soon as they are able. If this isn't possible to share with you this week, we will certainly have it to share during the first week back! We will also put the sample into the parent notice board outside the office for you to see!

All children came home on Friday with the new reading task/question that we are asking parents to work on with their child as part of their reading homework expectation. We will be monitoring homework closely and will be sending out a revised Homework Agreement document after the Easter break.

Hope you all have a lovely Easter and enjoy some valuable family time ☺

Best wishes,

Mrs C Norris
Headteacher

Decorated Eggs! Thursday 11th April

Please bring your decorated eggs into the library on Thursday morning! We always enjoy seeing everyone's efforts and each entry will be given a raffle ticket for a draw for each year group! Good luck!
