

Governor Profile

Joe Rigby

Co-opted Governor

I grew up in Saddleworth, near Oldham. After studying history at Warwick University, I lived abroad and taught English in Japan for a year. After that, I returned to England and joined the Department for Education, where I have worked since.

I work on the Bradford Opportunity Area programme. This involves working with schools on a series of targeted support programmes, with the overall aim of improving social mobility in Bradford and Keighley.

In 2018, I was co-opted as a Governor at Victoria Primary School. I am keen to support staff and parents at the school, and to make sure that Victoria's pupils get the best possible start in life.
