School Council News

Our School Council (Eilidh, Hannah K, Sophie, William L, Kaelyn, Georgina, Chloe, Jasper, Edward C, Verity and Eddie P) met on Tuesday to discuss issues that are important to them and their classmates.

The first item on the agenda was football. Lots of people love it – some people hate it! In the past we have had a football rota where each class is allowed to play football on a particular day. However, the current School Council decided that they don't want this since it means friends in different classes can't play together.

They concluded that one football-free day is a good idea (from now on it will be MONDAY) and that football on the school field needs to have an allocated zone, so that people who don't like football have space to play as well.

Their next subject was the Peace Garden. We have a lovely calm, quiet place in our school grounds for people to go who don't want to play running around games, but it is a bit hidden away. School Council decided that we should have wrist bands, which the adult on duty will give to anyone wanting to use the peace garden. This will help manage the number of people who are in there. They also decided that there should be monitors to keep an eye on what is going on.

School Council would also like to make the Peace Garden a more pleasant environment, as it is a little drab at the moment, so watch this space to see what they do in the Summer Term.

We may be asking for some help!

Reading idea of the week:

There are so many interesting books that you can read linked to your topic – both fiction and non-fiction. Visit your local library or the school library and see if you can find a book to teach you more about what you are learning in class.
