Information for Parents: 2019 national curriculum tests at the end of key stages 1 and 2

Key Stage 1 tests – year 2 pupils

Your child's teacher is responsible for judging the standards your child is working at in English, maths and science, by the end of key stage 1. To help inform those judgements, pupils sit national curriculum tests in English reading and maths, commonly called SATs. They may also sit an additional optional test in English grammar, punctuation and spelling.

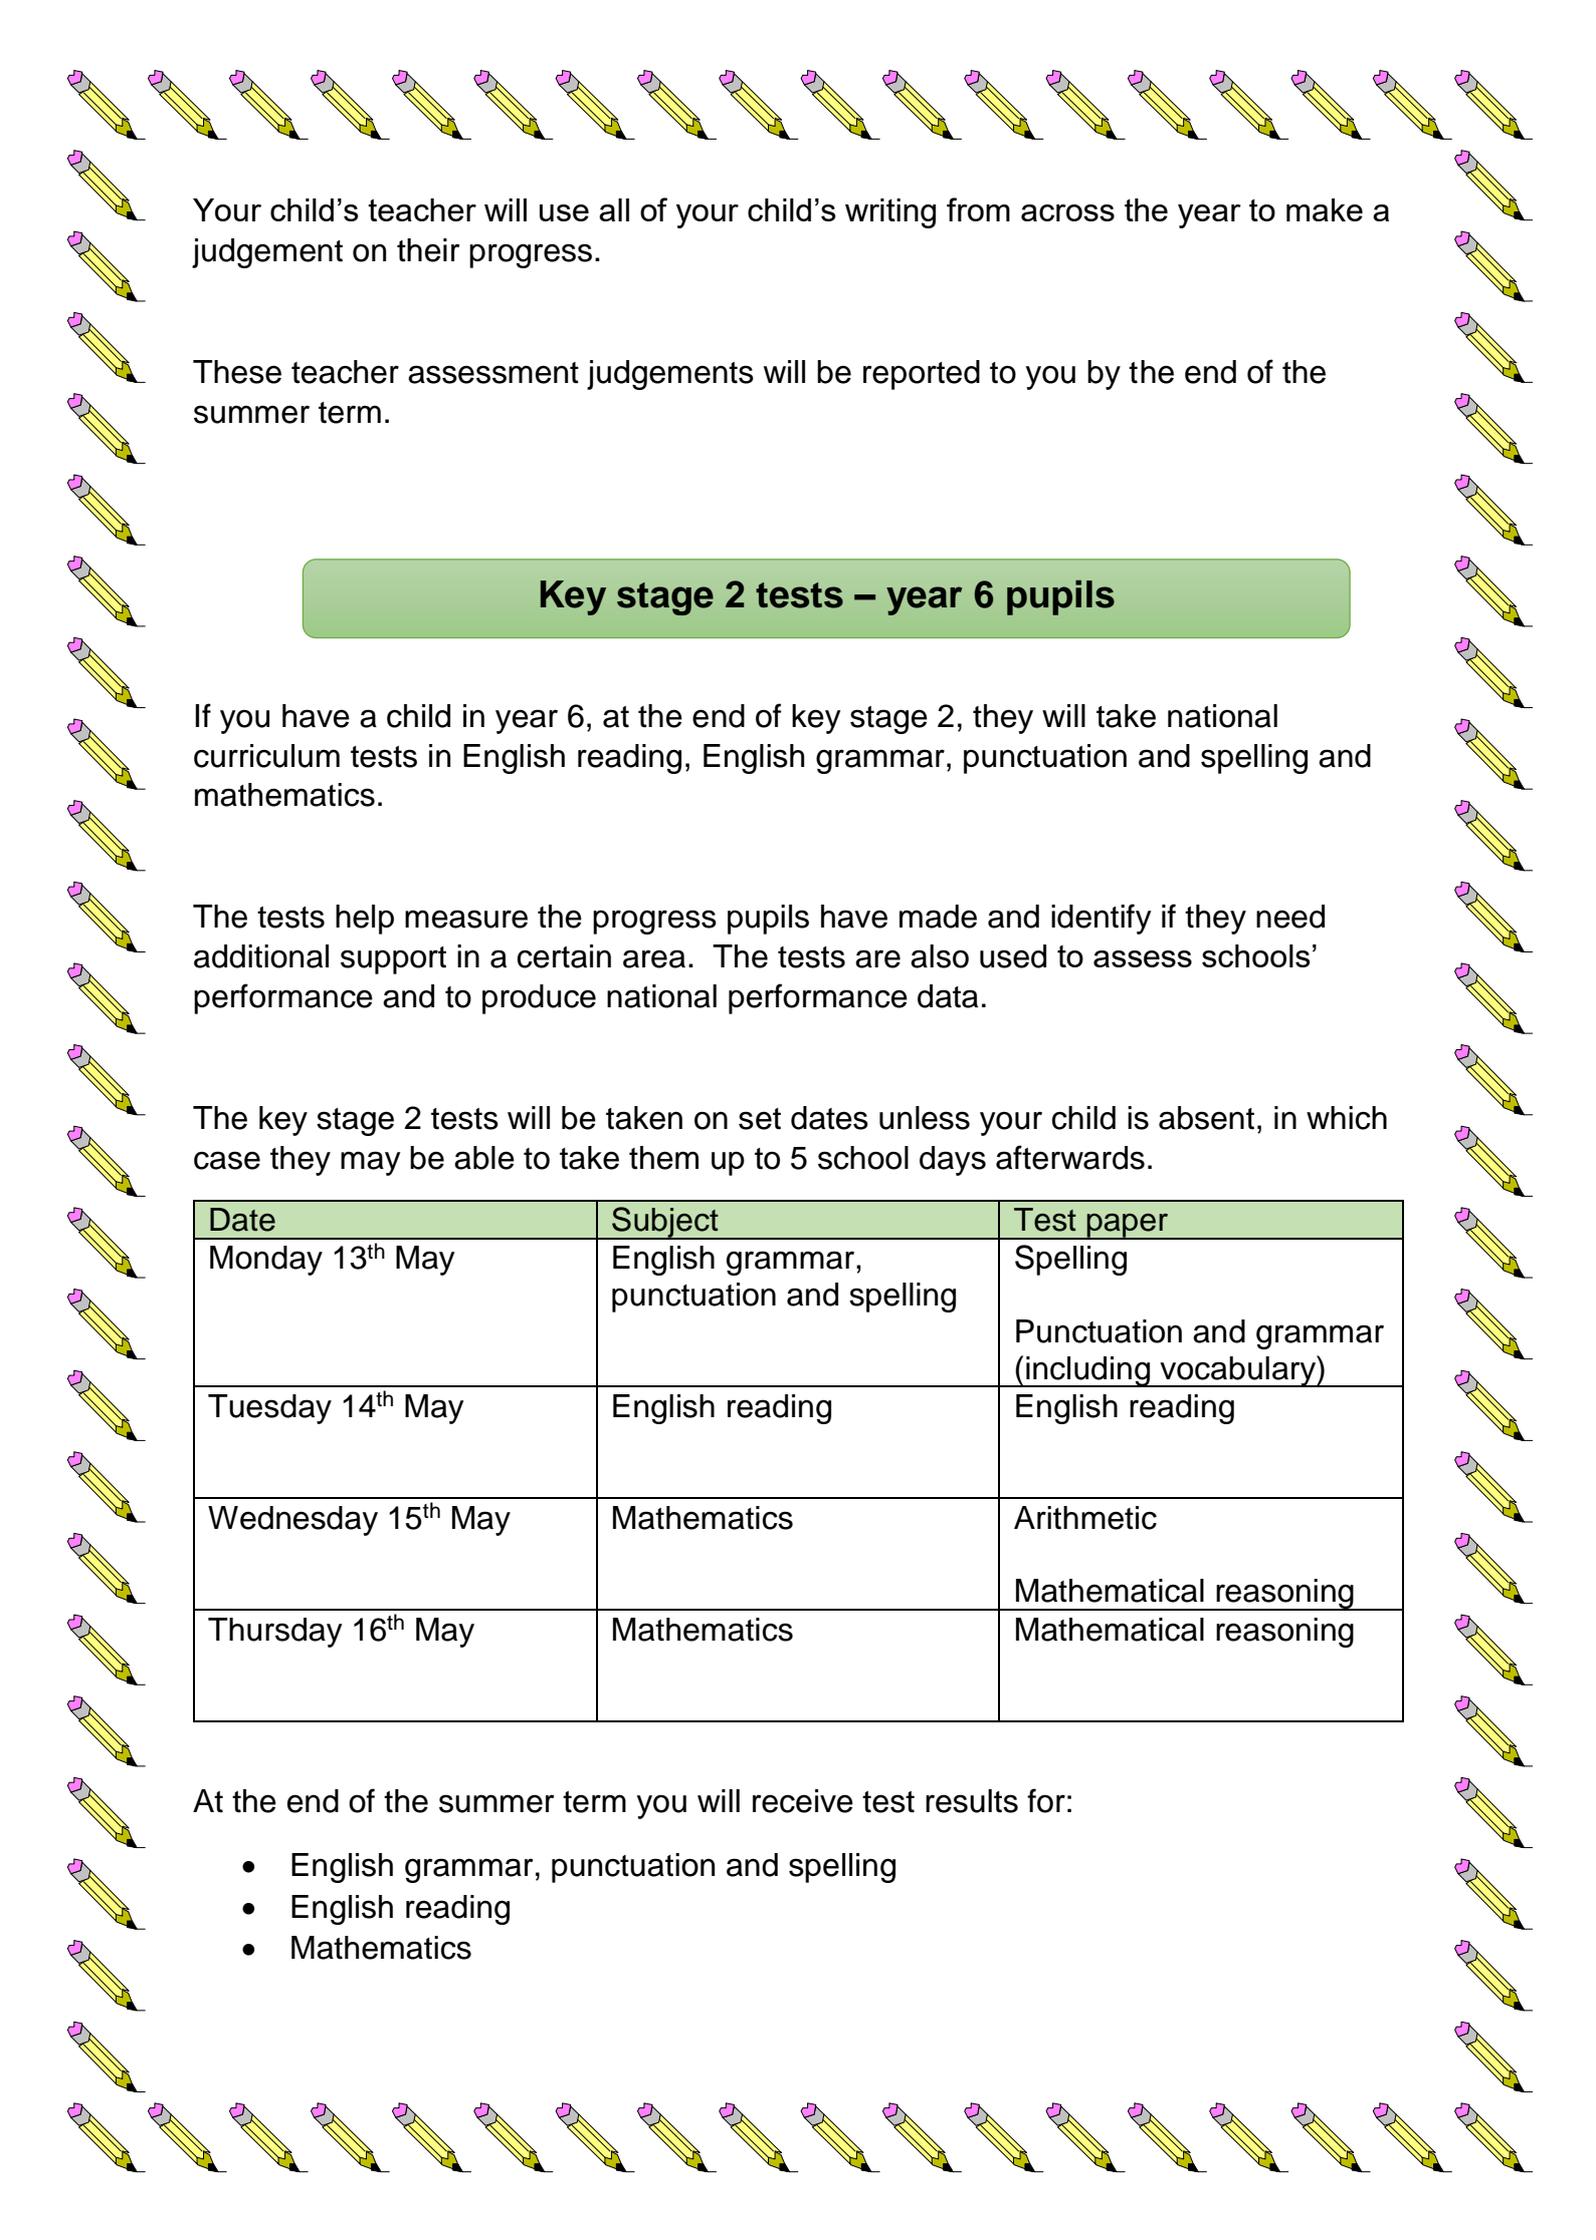

The tests are a tool for teachers to help them measure your child's performance and identify their needs as they move into key stage 2. They also allow the teachers to see how your child is performing against national expected standards.

The tests can be taken any time during May and they are not strictly timed. Pupils may not even know they are taking them as the teacher will incorporate them into everyday classroom activities.

Subject	Test paper
English reading	Short text and questions
	Long text with separate questions
Mathematics	Arithmetic
	Mathematical reasoning
English grammar, punctuation and spelling (optional test)	Spelling
	Punctuation and grammar (Including vocabulary)

Adults will support your child in accordance with the test guidelines.

The teacher will use the results from these tests, along with the work your child has done throughout the year, to help them reach their own judgements about how your child is progressing at the end of key stage 1. There is no test for English writing.

Your child's teacher will use all of your child's writing from across the year to make a judgement on their progress.

These teacher assessment judgements will be reported to you by the end of the summer term.

Key stage 2 tests – year 6 pupils

If you have a child in year 6, at the end of key stage 2, they will take national curriculum tests in English reading, English grammar, punctuation and spelling and mathematics.

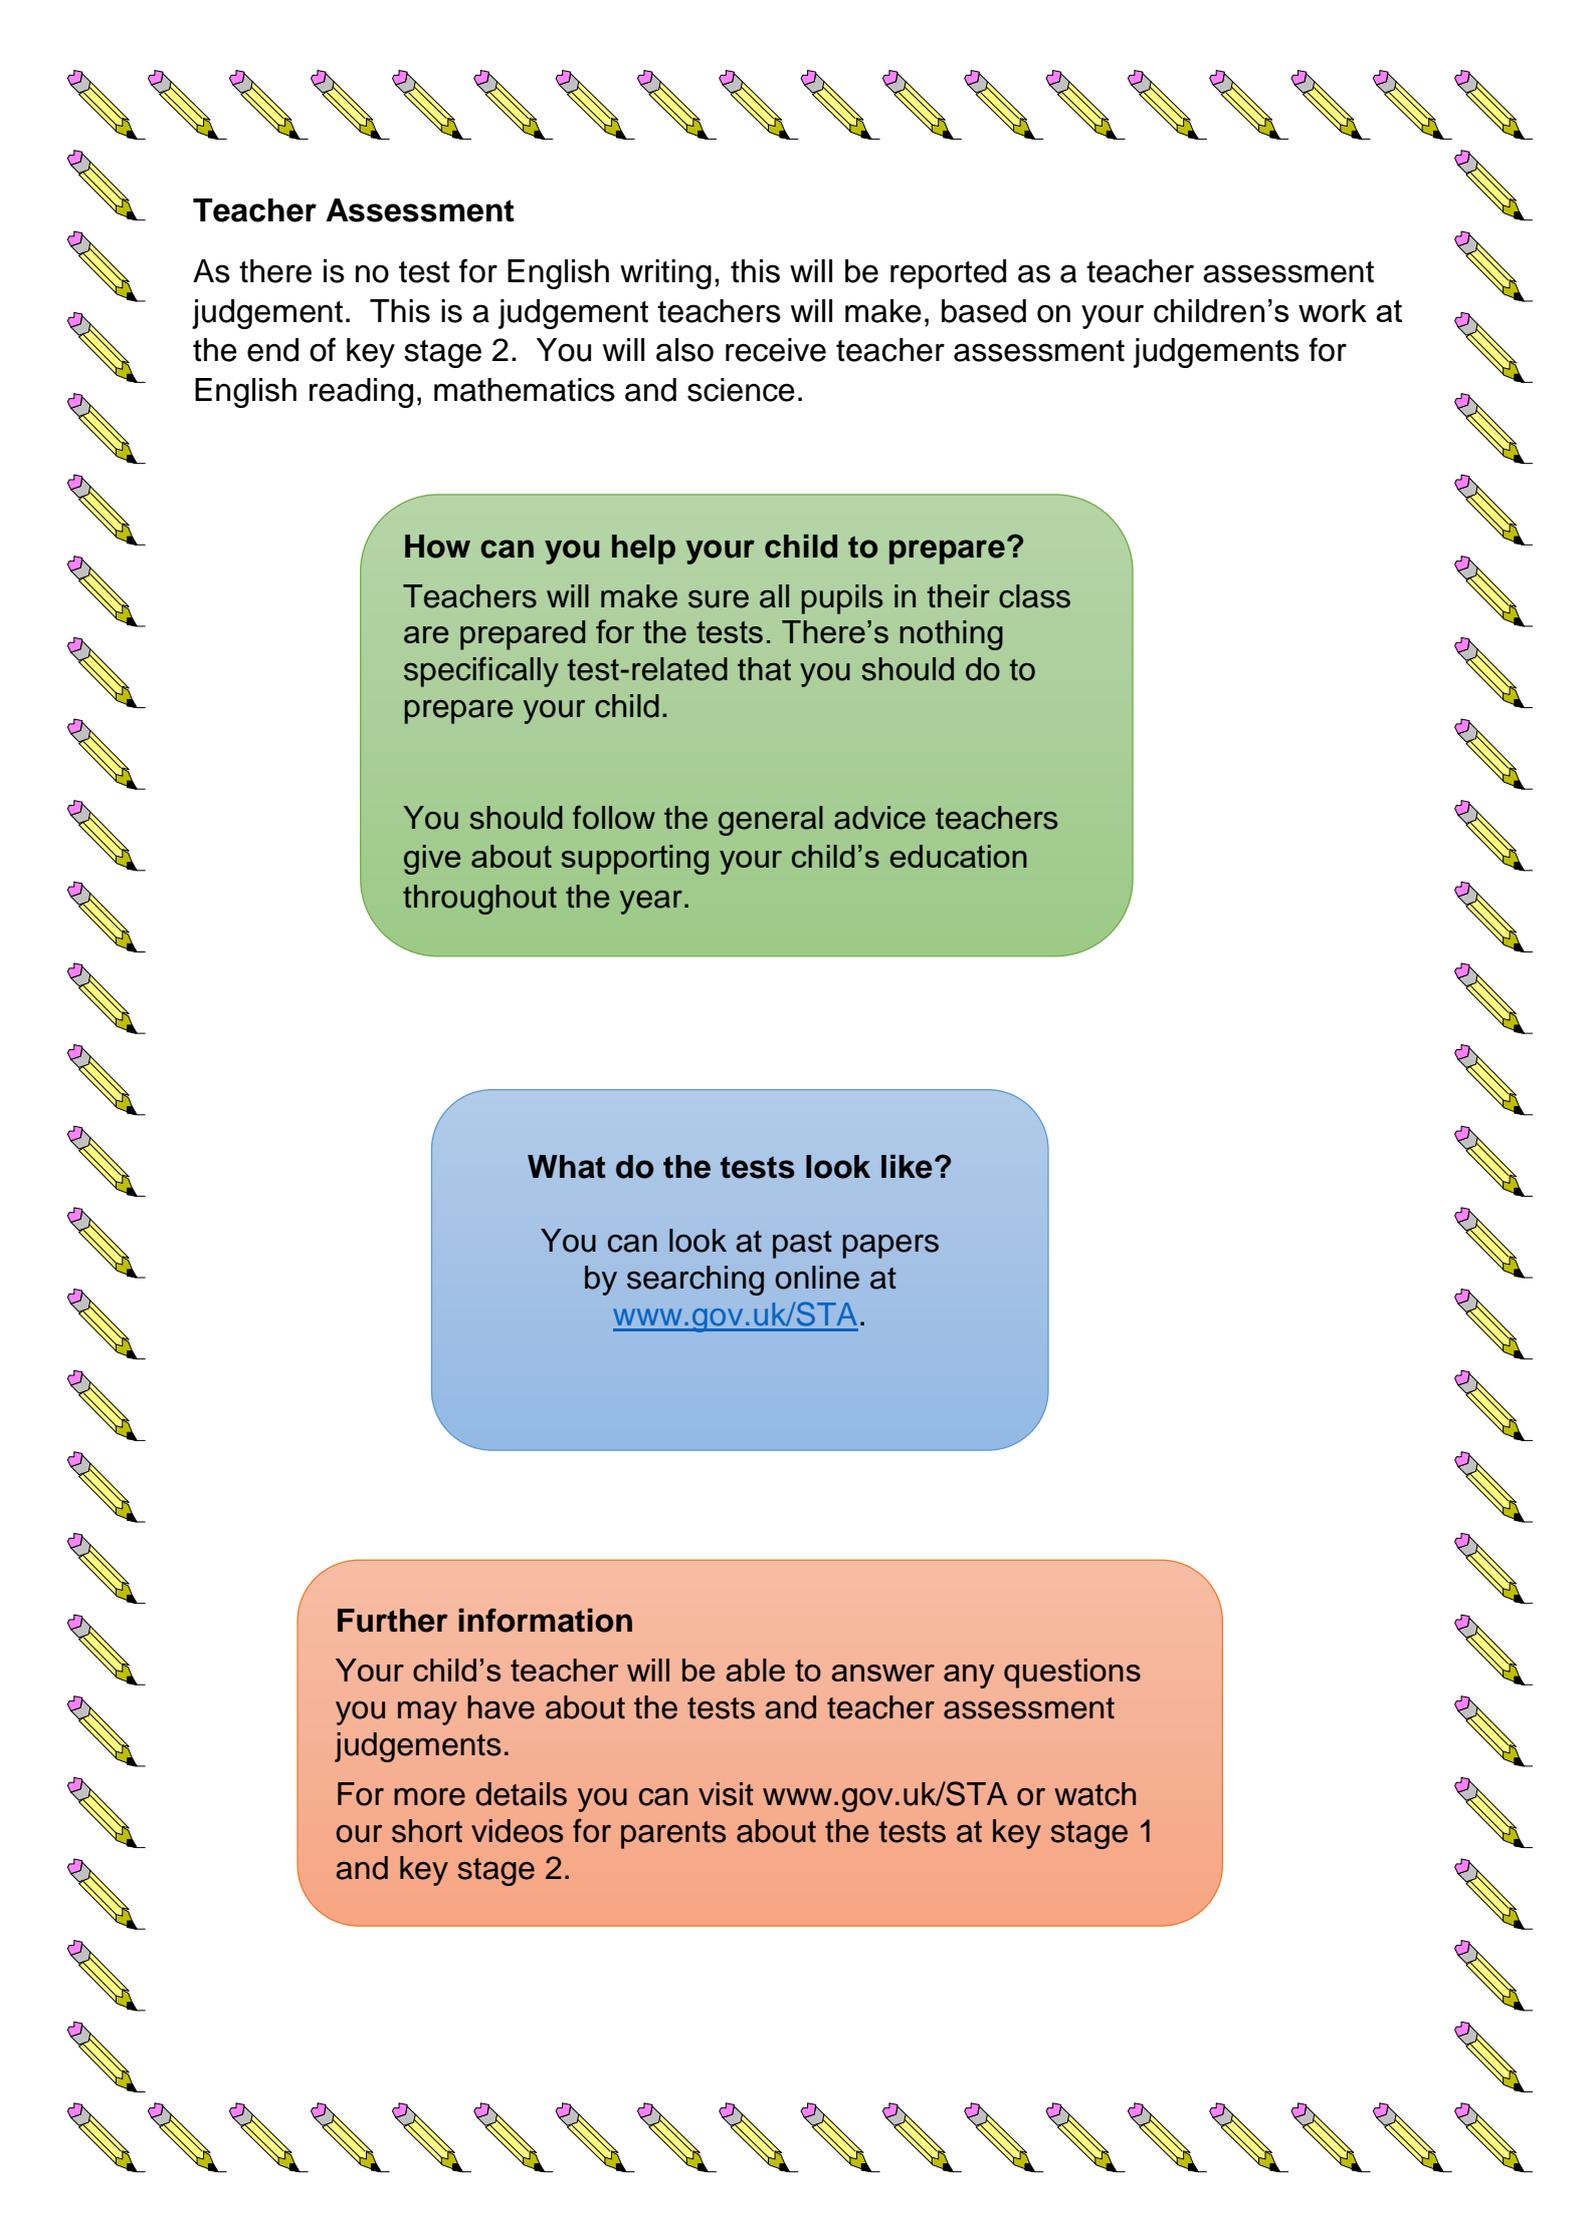

The tests help measure the progress pupils have made and identify if they need additional support in a certain area. The tests are also used to assess schools' performance and to produce national performance data.

The key stage 2 tests will be taken on set dates unless your child is absent, in which case they may be able to take them up to 5 school days afterwards.

Date	Subject	Test paper
Monday 13 th May	English grammar, punctuation and spelling	Spelling
		Punctuation and grammar (including vocabulary)
Tuesday 14 th May	English reading	English reading
Wednesday 15 th May	Mathematics	Arithmetic
		Mathematical reasoning
Thursday 16 th May	Mathematics	Mathematical reasoning

At the end of the summer term you will receive test results for:

- English grammar, punctuation and spelling
- English reading
- Mathematics

Teacher Assessment

As there is no test for English writing, this will be reported as a teacher assessment judgement. This is a judgement teachers will make, based on your children's work at the end of key stage 2. You will also receive teacher assessment judgements for English reading, mathematics and science.

How can you help your child to prepare?

Teachers will make sure all pupils in their class are prepared for the tests. There's nothing specifically test-related that you should do to prepare your child.

You should follow the general advice teachers give about supporting your child's education throughout the year.

What do the tests look like?

You can look at past papers by searching online at www.gov.uk/STA.

Further information

Your child's teacher will be able to answer any questions you may have about the tests and teacher assessment judgements.
