St. Joseph's Newsletter

Issue 032 - 8 July 2019

This week is our 'Aspirations Week' a chance for children to learn about a variety of job opportunities open to them in the future. We will be talking to your children all week about the importance of hard work in reaching their God given potential. I look forward to seeing what they come as on Friday!

Important PTFA Announcement

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs Judd for all of her hard work in setting up a very successful school PTFA. Unfortunately for us Mrs Judd is now unable to continue this role due to work commitments we wish her all the best in her new role. She will be leaving the post with a very well organised team in place and therefore we are looking for someone to step into her role and continue to lead the team and help them raise much needed funds for the children of our school. If you feel you have passion and desire to take on the role of Chair or Vice Chair then please could you contact the school. The future of the PTFA is in your hands. Can you help?

Social Media and Appropriate age

We are getting more children talking about issues arising following the use of various social media devices. We are educating the children daily and encouraging them to spend less time on their phones and devices and more time talking to family and friends. I wanted to make parents aware that all social media platforms including tik tok and Whatsapp are rated at least 12+. The main problems we are seeing at school are about children feeling left out and not good enough due to comments or actions that are not actually intended to upset. Please talk to your children and look again at the guidance on our school website. It is important we work together to educate our children, keep them safe online and encourage them to enjoy being children. Thank you for your support!

School lottery

Congratulations to Yasmin Hodgkiss on winning this weeks lottery. If you would like to be in with the chance of winning a cash prize and supporting the school at the same time please go on to the school website and look under parents/school lottery for details of how to enter.
