

Impact of PE spend Summer Term 2019

We have continued to provide all children with at least 2 hours of high quality curriculum PE, in addition there have been regular clubs (Athletics, David Hunt football, Forest School) as well as short term clubs to prepare teams for competition. (Rounders, Saffron Lane)

We have also used Luke Dixon to run curriculum Basketball sessions for KS which were very well received by the children and teachers. Luke also ran an after school Basketball session funded by parents which had a low take up although it did include several children who have not previously taken part in after school clubs.

The school have reviewed the sun safe policy and after some work with the children we have been awarded the Sun Safe School Award for the second year running.

NWLSSP

Since September 2013 the school has benefitted from being part of the NWLSSP through choosing option 4.

Rob Barrow works with us for $\frac{1}{2}$ day each week and supports us with a range of sports. His remit is to create a sustainable PE curriculum that can be delivered by teachers. This involves planning and delivering PE lessons alongside teaching staff. Over the Summer Term, Rob was able to support the children swimming each Friday afternoon.

This term all children in Year 3 and 4 have received weekly swimming sessions covering swimming, water polo and culminating in endurance events/ gala.

Through the NWLSSP, the Year 5s had a coach come into school and deliver a session based around mental health and wellbeing. This was designed by NWLSSP to make a clear link between exercise and positive mental health.

Year 2 received a session of Ultimate Frisbee coaching from NWLSSP, this served as an excellent taster session but also linked strongly with English as the follow up session involved writing a set of instructions on how to play ultimate Frisbee.

Value added events

We have used some of the funding to run Forest School sessions for all children. This term, Yews and Elms have had weekly sessions in the school forest. Both classes also opted for a full day of Forest School at Cattow's Farm which allowed for a deeper exploration of outdoor skills. Through the session the children were observed and those children who found teamwork and independence difficult were offered Forest School Interventions.

Elms have continued their bee learning with several sessions of bee husbandry which has involved checking the hive for productivity, health and welfare of the bees.

John Brooks from the FA/ Match Officials visited Year 6 and delivered a session around the role of refereeing in football matches.

Volunteering and Leadership

Four children have been selected as Bronze Ambassadors for 2018/ 2019. They went to Ashby School for a training session in the Autumn Term and have started to use these skills. They organised and ran sports day for Happy Hedgehogs based in the forest using the book "Going on a Bear hunt" as inspiration.

Next year's bronze ambassadors have already received their training through NWLSSP and have been supporting the current playcoaches in delivering the whole school and Happy Hedgehogs Sports Days.

Children in Year 4 and 5 were asked to apply for the position of playcoach for next year. The role involves planning, delivering and reviewing lunchtime activity clubs for the younger children in school. Due to high demand, names were picked from a hat and 16 children received training from Rob barrow and have started running sessions every Tuesday lunchtime.

All children were encouraged to help the planning and delivery of the whole school sports day. This included children arriving before school to set up the events for the morning inter house events, measuring the track, acting as finish line sticker distributors and generally helping the event to run smoothly. Many children were also involved in measuring and preparing the course for the afternoon fun run. This raised over £500 for Nottingham Children's Hospital and involved the school community completing over 800km as a team.

Poor weather has meant that some planned events have not happened, these will be planned in during the Autumn term.

PLT sessions.

Mr Wilkinson as PE coordinator has attended 1/2 day of PLT training based at King Edward School this term which has allowed him to gain up to date information about resources and schemes available.

Mr Wilkinson delivered a presentation at the Future Active Conference- PE, Activity, Happiness & Health at the Heart of School Life. This was focused on how SJM delivered a high quality and wide health curriculum that supported all childrens development.

Main Issues to inform provision in Autumn 2019

- Ensure adequate intra school events (lunchtime Rugby World Cup, competition within PE sessions) ensure these are run by leadership groups within school
- Ensure opportunities for volunteering and leadership- link to above but also playcoach sessions and Happy Hedgehog sessions
- Ensure 2 hour provision continues to be consistent- how are we adding daily boost to curriculum?
- Continue to provide high quality PE Health curriculum- how can we encourage healthier food choices at break and lunchtimes?
