Maths

This half term we will be learning about place value, addition and subtraction and making sure we understand the basis of number before we move on to the four methods and operations.

English

We are very excited this half term to be studying Street Child, a novel written about a young Victorian boy who has some very bad luck in his life. Will life improve for poor Jim?

Topic

This term we will be learning about The Victorians. We will be looking into what life was like as a child: how it was different to life today and what improved their lives as time went on. Our amazing trip will also be related to the Victorians and look out for our Victorian theme day!

Science

This half term we will be learning all about human impact on the environment: what we are doing wrong, the problems it is causing and how we can make our world the best place possible to live in!
