

10/10/19

Today at Forest School we explored a new area of Wimbledon Common. We found lots of interesting natural objects which we enjoyed looking at and talking about.

The children discovered a big hole and talked about who they thought lived there. They talked about where different animals lived in the woodland.

“I wonder who lives in this hole.”

“A mole!”

“Rabbits”

“ Maybe a fox”

As we explored the forest we found baby worms in the soil below our feet. There were so many!

“Look I can do it!”

We developed our confidence, independence, self-esteem and physical skills as we walked across the large fallen down trees.
