Read Write Inc.

A Structured and Systematic Phonics Programme

We aim to give every child the reading skills they need to be able to read fluently, write confidently and speak articulately.

How can I support my child at home?

- Become confident with the sounds that your child is learning, so that you can segment and blend words with your child successfully.
- Re-read stories over and over again so that they have favorite stories.
- Listen to them read their Read, Write Inc book at home – they have been equipped with the skills to be successful.
- We recommend watching the Parent Tutorial: Story book Activities – Speed Sounds from the Ruth Miskin website as it will help use the Phonics Story books to their full potential.
- Practise the correct formation of the letters at home. This will build up to your child's confidence when writing.

Where can I go for help?

The Ruth Miskin website has lots of support and resources for parents to use. It covers everything we will be talking about today including:

- The pronunciation of the sounds
- How the sounds are taught to the children
- How children are taught to blend the sounds they use
- Book recommendations

Below is the order of the sounds we will be teaching the children
