

Our Forest School Week

17/09/19

At forest school today the children discovered and explored the big ditch. They explored how the water flowed through the brook and followed it until it came to a stop.

“Where does it go now?”

“Help! I’m stuck!”

Some of the children pretended that they were stuck in the mud and needed help to get out. They developed their problem solving skills by working out how to rescue each other. This enabled them to develop their communication skills and relationships.

The children independently set challenges for themselves and developed the confidence to explore different ways of getting across the ditch or mud patches.

“Apple for the squirrels”

We talked about the changes in seasons today and discussed what happens to the woodland animals during the winter months. One of the children decided to leave their apple from their packed lunch to help feed the squirrels during the winter.

TUG OF WAR!

The children also developed their team working skills and they used the ropes and played a game of tug and war.

We had lots of fun exploring and look forward to next time we go to Forest School.
