Our Learning this week

This week, Oak Class have been introduced to their new Big Idea, 'Tracing our Past', and participated in the launch.

In English, we have looked at our new whole class text, Wild Boy, which is based around the Victorian Period. The children have started to collect vocabulary for their narrative and have produced some excellent character descriptions.

In Maths, we have looked at the Order of Operations, focusing on developing our understanding of how to calculate the order of operations. Along with this, the children have been able to reason in great depth.

This week, we have started our new topic for Science. We are looking at the Human Body, and this week's focus was about blood. As part of this, the children used a range of ingredients to create their own blood smoothie. This can be seen on the blog.
