

Class 5 - Autumn Term 2

November 2019

Key Information

- Sportscool PE sessions will take place on Monday and gymnastics on a Friday. Please make sure that earrings, if worn, can be removed by your child.
- Please ensure that PE kits remain in school for the whole week.
- Extra-Curricular clubs, largely provided by Sports Cool, have been communicated separately.
- Homework will be sent home each Friday, to be returned on the following Wednesday. If there are any problems with this, please encourage your child to speak to a member of staff during the week.
- Spelling words from the statutory word lists will be tested on a Friday. Other spellings, linked to the 'No Nonsense Spelling Investigations' work will be sent home to practice as necessary.

Welcome Back!

Dear Parents,

Welcome back to another busy half-term in Oak Class. I hope you all had a lovely break; the children are eager and ready to continue with their learning.

This half term we are looking at Electricity in Science and using this to focus on the different strands of enquiry

In History, we will be looking at the Ancient Chinese Shang Dynasty. This then leads in to our DT, where the children will be learning the skills of sewing.

In English, our focus is on 'The Eye of the Wolf' by Daniel Pennac. We are excited to be using a challenging book at the centre of our learning to inspire our own creations. We will also be looking at poems with imagery based on the wintery weather that is beginning to creep in!

A full outline of all the subjects are on the reverse of this letter.

We are excited to have the KS2 trip to the pantomime in December. A letter with arrangements has been sent separately to this.

It is a particularly busy and exciting half-term in the build up to Christmas with Parliament Week taking place in school. Oak class will focus on Brexit and try to make sense of all those technical words they hear on the news as well as hosting a debate to identify who is a remainer and who is a leaver!

It is also that time of year when we pay our respects to all those who have fallen during times of conflict. As part of our Remembrance activities, the children will take part in an assembly with Reverend Lesley and share our class wreaths.

Also, the children have been invited to join a new school choir, just in time to sing their hearts out for the Christmas season.

And finally, a huge well done to all of the children in Oak Class who have worked hard to ensure their homework and reading is up to date. Keep up the good work!

As always, please do not hesitate to contact me or any member of staff in school if you have any questions or queries regarding your child.

Miss Lawson and Miss Southcott

Caption describing picture or graphic.

“To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here.”

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find “filler” articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication.

So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

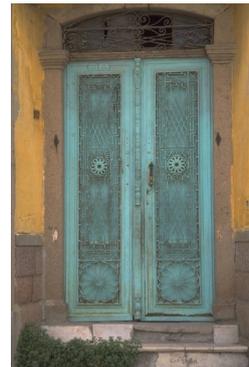

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication.

So, when you're finished writing your newsletter, convert it to a Web site and post it.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

Inside Story Headline

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

Caption describing picture or graphic.

BUSINESS NAME

Primary Business Address
Address Line 2
Address Line 3
Address Line 4

Phone: 555-555-5555
Fax: 555-555-5555

E-mail: someone@example.com

We're on the Web!
example.com

Business Tagline or Motto

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

Back Page Story Headline

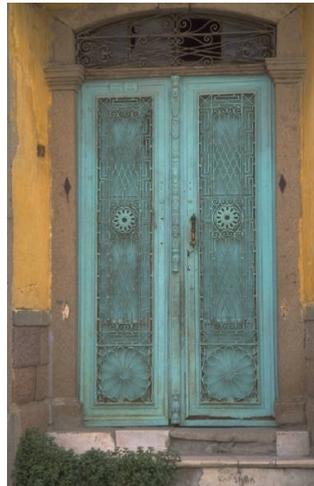

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of

Caption describing picture or graphic.

refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.

standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to

Organization