Message from the Head Teacher

Hi all

I hope that you have had a good week.

Parents' evening

Parents evening is on Wednesday, so please return your slips as soon as possible. Times run from 2.30pm – 6.00pm. Please collect your children at the usual time and they can attend the appointment with you. There will be a representative from a charity that advises on energy debt and management which may be of use to some of you. Also a Maths and English tutor will be on site if you are interested. Mrs Begum will also be available if you wish to check your eligibility for free school meals. You will just need your National Insurance number, date of birth and home address. We will also have a sample of homework books, if you have not yet purchased them for your children, which you can order. Finally, the book fair will also be on if you are looking for any Christmas presents.

Attendance is improving despite the vomiting bug visiting us. Don't forget, every lesson counts. We are allowed to give prescribed medicine with your consent and we have first aid trained staff in school to ensure that your child is fine. Please note that we are not allowed to give paracetamol that hasn't been prescribed. If they are too unwell to be at school, please let us know straight away.

Santa's helpers

Anyone wishing to volunteer to help wrap Christmas presents for the children, we will be starting on 5th December 9.00am in the school hall. Please let us know if you can help.

Have a blessed week.

On the 29th November 2019, we are having a non-uniform day. The purpose of this is to raise money for the poor. We are looking for a contribution of £1 for non-uniform day and 50p for activities in the playground at lunch-time. Your support is most appreciated. School Council
