

Weekly Newsletter

6th December

This weeks Capel Stars are : Daniel in Year 1, Alex M in year 2, Evie in Year 3, Finley in Year 4, Fletcher in Year 5 and Isabel in Year 6

And Mrs Farr's Capel Star goes to Mrs Lee who saved the day on Tuesday. When we were let down at the last minute, she donned her hero cape and delivered a fantastic drama workshop for our children.

In addition, I would like to nominate ALL the children in the school for one of my very special capel stars—this one comes with extra playtime! It is a special thank you for their brilliant behaviour on Tuesday. Not only did they conduct themselves well, but they also looked after each other well. We are so proud of you all.

Enrichment Day:

Hopefully you all saw the special newsletter addition which was sent on Thursday—it reported on all the workshops and how our children did. I wanted to reiterate my thanks to all that were involved—we could not have done it without you. It was an amazing day full on new experiences and it has hopefully inspired our children to take risks and try something new. In the gallery section of our website, you can find more photographs of the day.

A message from Hillview:

University of the Arts (UAL) - 'Future Creatives' @ Hillview

Art & Design courses for Primary children

Our partnership with UAL has continued to grow over this term with the first groups from our primary contacts now coming to an end next week. Next term's dates are available on the Future Careers website and to book simply follow this link. Our school has been issued with a 10% discount code which your school may also use when checking out. Use code School10.

All courses are held at Hillview and term begins on 16 January with after-school on Wednesdays and Saturday mornings from 18 January 2020.

If you have a budding, creative young person in your family who has not yet seized the opportunity to try these courses, do take a look to see what's on offer for them. They may be surprised!

Headteacher Awards

We are so proud to announce the first two Headteacher Awards for 2019-2020 have been awarded to

Paige in year 2 and Eddie in Year 2

Congratulations to you both on earning 150 points.
