

Oak and Redwood Class

Week 2 Letter

Hello everyone, it is brilliant to be in contact with you again and we hope you have all been continuing to enjoy the sunshine.

We hope week two of home schooling has been going well and we have really enjoyed seeing what some of you have been getting up to on Twitter and through the school email.

We just wanted to send a quick reminder of the tasks we set for this week.

Tasks for this week:
•	PE: workout with Joe Wicks – watch the video and workout together! https://www.youtube.com/watch?time_continue=1&v=K6r99N3kXME&feature=emb_title
•	Daily practise of spellings – practise your best handwriting and put them into exciting or silly sentences.
•	Daily reading practise - Activelearn or reading books
•	Practise of your times-table facts - Rockstars, Hit the Button, x Table Booklets, Fact Triangles, 8 factor
•	Reading comprehension tasks – complete a unit from your book.
•	Learning Conversation: These can be completed in your normal Learning conversation books.
Extra activities
•	Maths: Whiterose Maths – A series of lessons and resources for your child, which are specific to each year group. https://whiterosemaths.com/homelearning/
•	Writing: Radio Blogging – Listen from 9:30 – 10:30 for a daily live show, that will help with any English, story writing and fun activities to try. https://radioblogging.net/
•	Mindfulness challenge : See the earlier update from Friday 27.03.20

As we mentioned in our previous letter, we are not expecting you to replicate what we complete in a school day, but touching on these areas regularly will be of great benefit to your child.

What have Mr Shillabeer and Miss Nash been up to?

We have also been keeping up with our daily tasks set by Mrs Richardson, as well as enjoying some fresh air and other activities.

Miss Nash

Going on early morning walks

Painting walls and fences to add colour to my garden and gardening.

Making a window display to thank key workers and NHS staff

Mr Shillabeer

Food shopping for friends and family

Reading books

1 long walk a day!

Mrs Emery and Mrs Lange are both well and enjoying the sunshine and fresh air too. We will ask them for some photos to share with you next time. On Friday, we will be sending you some Easter tasks to have a go at. So watch this space

Keep posting via twitter or get your parents to email the school on sch.018@educ.somerset.gov.uk to share what you have been getting up to.

Keep smiling and stay positive everyone and we will see you all soon!
