Possible Phased Reopening of School to Reception, Y1 and Y6

We will be sending our plans for the possible reopening of school to YR, Y1 and Y6 tomorrow morning. I would urge everyone to read them, even if you do not have a child in those year groups.

We would appreciate it if you could reply to the appropriate surveys on the letter as soon as possible following this, and no later than 9am Friday morning.

You may have seen lots of vans outside school. We currently have major building works taking place downstairs in Key Stage One (we were informed of these at late notice), which are not due to be completed until Saturday 30th May. As such, school will only be open to Key Worker children on Monday 1st (our training day) and Tuesday 2nd June whilst we make the building safe and then there will be a staggered return for the above year groups.

Thank you for your support.

Thank you!

As we move into a new phase of schooling and the lockdown—or perhaps we should call it the unlock! I would like to say a massive thank you to all the staff who have worked tirelessly to provide online learning for the children, respond to emails and work in school to provide care for children of Key Workers—they really are quite a team! Thank you to yourselves too for all your support, lovely messages and for sending us some amazing photos of work.

Next week is half term so staff will be taking a break from their blogs, but will be back again after half term, albeit things may look a little different.

We hope you have a lovely week.

Uniform Day

Thank you to all those who have sent photos in their school uniform. Hopefully you will have been able to enjoy them on the class blogs. We will now spend some time collating them into one picture which we will share with you in due course. It is still not too late to send us a photo!
