Newsletter week ending 12th June 2020

Mrs Truslove writes:

Welcome back to what seems like a strange new term. It has been lovely to welcome back Reception, Year 1, Year 6 and an assortment of key worker children this week and although we are all shattered, I think it has gone well - even though the concept of social distancing is often lost on 5 year olds! Yesterday, in our assembly bubbles, we asked the children what has been the highlight of coming back and resoundingly it was seeing their friends again; an emotion I think we can all share. To those year groups who are not yet back with us, please email Miss Miller and Mrs Kitchen and they will add your news to the newsletter – that way it will feel like we are all still connected.

Please can you ensure that we have the most current contact information for you in case we need to while your child is in school. This can be emailed to the bursar email.

If you have a child due to start in September, or know anyone else who does, please don't think that we have forgotten about you. We are waiting to find out what the guidance will be on them starting school but rest assured that we will put a transition plan in place and over the next few weeks would hope to be able to start communicating with you via email (please send in email addresses so that we can begin to put them into a cohort email).

Key worker children – As these numbers begin to increase we need children to bring their learning with them as it becomes complicated when they are from 4 different year groups! We will supply pencils, scissors, sellotape etc but they do need to be prepared to tackle their home learning with minimum support. This week these children have coped admirably – even though there has only been 1 on some days!

Finally, Happy Birthday to Florence & Roxy.

Mrs Barnes / Mrs Truslove

Next week in maths, Year 1 will use number facts to add and subtract 1-digit numbers to/from 2-digit numbers. Reception will be exploring the properties of shape.

Year 1 spellings will be practised daily in school. A copy of them will be emailed to you to practise at home. We are not setting homework this term but if you want to do any extra please have a look at BBC Bitesize which has some great supplementary resources on it.

The topic this half term is mini-beasts, we will be looking at stories by Eric Carle and writing about them. We will be making mini beasts, exploring features of local habitats and predicting where they may be found.

Mrs Gibbins

In the home learning this week I have included both the Bitesize and Hamilton trust work. Please use the one that works best for you but if you are in the key worker bubble it will need to be Hamilton Trust as we can't have all the lessons playing!

I have also included some science and geography.

Keep up the hard work.

Mrs Pickles/Mr Wilkinson

It has been lovely to have year 6 back and they have worked and played very hard this week. The only homework for Year 6 will be to continue with their Where is the World presentations. If some are ready, we will begin seeing them next week.

Years 4 and 5 it is quiet without you! The Home Learning Tasks will be sent out as usual and this week's theme is Under the Sea with lots of lovely ideas. There is also a new STEM learning project. Please email blueclass@easthaddonprimary.com if you would like us to send you the pdf versions and PPTs; we will send these versions out to those who have already requested this format.

Your News!

We love hearing what you have been up to! Please send your news and photos in to: bursar@easthaddon-ce.northants-ecl.gov.uk

Joseph has been leading PE sessions for his friends and the teachers (!). We are really impressed with how well he has done and think he could be the next Joe Wicks or even Mr Wilkinson!!!. Well done Joseph!

Hi All, we hope you are all well. Tom is missing school and all of his friends very much. When the weather was nicer, he was helping out on the farm lots. Bring back the sunshine!

With love from the Fishers.

Hi everyone

We are both missing everyone at school and can't wait to see you all again. Hope you're all well, love
Evangeline and Atticus x
