Newsletter week ending 10th July 2020

Mrs Truslove writes:

It seems strange to be approaching the end of the school year without a school trip or big church celebration but that is our reality for 2020. However, it has been a pleasure to see how the children that we do have in school have coped with the return. The school is filled with smiles and laughter, from children and staff, and everyone has adapted to the new normal with relative ease and rotten jokes!

This week I had a meeting with some of the other heads in the cluster to look at the way forward and share good practice – it was reassuring that we all shared similar experiences and that this is testament to the resilience of our wonderful children.

The staff also had a twilight training session this week and it was great to be able to reflect on this experience, and how we continue to support our pupils, and each other, as we move into a new school year. In fact our conversations continued long after the training had finished and reinforced how important it is that we make the mental health of our children a priority in the coming months and years.

Birthdays!

Happy Birthday to Maria

Mrs Barnes / Mrs Truslove

Next week we will be completing the topic on mini-beasts. Weather permitting, we will be looking at habitats around the school grounds.

Mrs Gibbins

I have received some excellent dramatic versions of a midsummer night's dream. Well done if you completed that work. It has been very entertaining.

Dear Year 3 – thank you to those of you who have sent in video and written work in response to our requests over the few weeks. We still haven't heard from everybody yet, so hopefully we will hear from the rest of you soon.

Mrs Pickles/Mr Wilkinson

Year 6 have been great company again. We have been looking at ratio and BIDMAS problems in maths, designing boxes in DT and researching German Brands and presenting their findings in a poster. They have also been putting the final touches to their Leavers' Service.

The Home Learning Tasks for Year 4 and 5 will be sent out as usual and this week's theme is 'Around the World' which should be an interesting global final topic to end the term. There is another new STEM learning project.

Please keep sending in any work, photos or video clips as we love seeing them.

Please email blueclass@easthaddonprimary.com if you would like us to send you the pdf versions and PPTs; we will send these versions out to those who have already requested this format in previous weeks.

Well done Ellie!

'I got my brown belt, white stripe, badge 2 in Martial Arts. This means I am only one more badge away from becoming a blue belt and joining the big kids' class. I miss all of you and can't wait to tell you all about what I have done with Mummy.'

Florence's baked potato song!

Have you heard the baked potato song? Florence had to learn it for Cubs and decided to record it on her birthday, to share with her friends.

You should be able to see it attached to this email.

Thank you Florence and thank you baked potato!
