Well done and thank you – our first full week back and the children have been amazing, adapting to the new routines and ready and willing to do their very best. As always, their behaviour has been exemplary. We are very much looking forward to the term ahead

Whole school (zoom)

assemblies – as you can see in the photo we all experienced a gentle calming Tai Chi assembly session – so good for mind and body. We will be making these sessions a regular weekly activity to support our children's well-being.

Book mark gift – to end our week, the children are all coming home with a small gift, a book mark to inspire and motivate them to 'aim high'

Cashless Please – please make all payments online, including toast. This can be done on Parentpay. Thank you for your help.

PSHE - our return to school priority, has been enabling our children to happily re-engage with teachers, friends and learning. Year 4 have reflected and created 8 top tips for coping with worries.

Lunch choice – if your child is having a school lunch there is a quick survey to select daily options, over a two week menu. Click here for the link.

Talking Point – our Thursday talking point is back. Classes have discussed their views ready for today's vote. As always we'd love you to take part see our twitter account.

Thursday's Talking Point...

Novak Djokovic has been disqualified from the US Open after hitting a line judge with a ball. The world number one had just lost a crucial point. In frustration he took a ball out of his pocket, and hit it behind him without looking striking the judge in her neck. So, what do you think, should sportspeople be disqualified if they lose their temper?

I would like to point out that...

I agree with you and would like to add...

It could also be argued that...

I politely disagree with you and would like to say that...

What do you think about this – should sportspeople be disqualified if they lose their temper?

Maths Resources - This week, we received an exciting delivery of our new Power Maths books and resources to support the teaching and learning of Maths across the school. We are committed to continuing our teaching for Mastery journey this year and look forward to the children starting this with their new teacher.
