Dear Parent/Carer

As you know your children's safety, happiness and education are all very important to us at Hallcroft.

This week is national Anti Bullying week and while this is not something which we need to discuss often at school it is something which all the children need to learn about and understand. Each class will be discussing anti-bullying week in an age appropriate way this week in school.

Please find attached a leaflet about what bullying is and how we would deal with it if it arose in school.

Yours sincerely
