RSPB Big Garden Watch

Dear Parents/ Carers,

I hope that you have all had a lovely weekend!

One of our pupils at Halling – Katie Richards – is very passionate about wildlife and has been very eager to share with you all that at the end of this month (29th January – 31st January), it will be the annual RSPB Big Garden Watch. During the annual event, people are encouraged to get outside and find out more about the birds in their environment. This is also a great time of year to feed the birds and make feeders as food is sparse; you can get your garden prepared for spring when they will be nesting.

If you are interested in participating, here is a link for your information:

At 11am on Thursday 28th January, why not participate in the Big Schools Winterwatch Live Lesson:

We would love to hear all about the wonderful wildlife that you spot. Please feel free to email in to office@halling.medway.sch.uk with pictures/ a description of what you have seen, or please do send a message to the Facebook page.

Keeping on the theme of wildlife, please continue to send pictures of your wildlife bake off entries to the Facebook page. We have been VERY impressed with just how amazing the cakes are – well done everybody that has participated already!

Have a wonderful week and I look forward to sharing my newsletter with you this Friday (hopefully with some pictures of wildlife that you have sent in).

If you have any questions/ would like to discuss anything, please do not hesitate to contact us – we are happy to help.

Take care and stay safe.

Yours Sincerely

Miss Selmi
