Challenge 7

Well done to our Parent Governor Mr Heald who achieved the challenge he set himself over the Easter holidays. He also set our school community the 'Challenge 7' goal in order to support Mr Breslin – please see the message on PING from Mrs Shaw and click this link for more information.

Our whole school started the challenge yesterday and will finish it next Thursday. Please follow each class Twitter for updates.

Well done Jaxson in Year 6!

Leigh Centurions ran a competition for local schools to design their new Warm up top that would be worn by the players but also could be bought in shops by fans.

Year 6 designed their Warm Up Tops during lockdown and after being submitted to the panel, including the club owner - Derek Beaumont, Jaxson Heald was chosen to receive a prize. They were impressed by his use of colours and the strong message on the top which represents Leigh Centurions.

We are going to receive a sports kit that our pupils can wear when representing the school in sporting competitions and Jaxson will be leading a project to design this ready to go into production. Well done Jaxson!

Always Award

We are starting the Always Award next week to allow those families who may not have received their orders of school uniforms yet, to collect them or purchase them this weekend. Children must wear their full uniform, bring their planners in every day, have their planners signed when they have read, (whether a book or online) hand homework in when it is set and come to school on time each day.

Prince Philip's Funeral tomorrow

Whether you like the Royal family or not, I think you'll agree that it is only right to show respect to the longest serving monarch and the longest serving consort in British history by observing the National minutes silence tomorrow at 3pm before the ceremony begins in St George's chapel. We have mentioned this to the children in our assembly this afternoon so that they can pay their respects and be part of history.
