Coronavirus - COVID19

What's changed from 17th May

Seeing friends and family

The Rule of Six will be extended to indoor areas, which means groups of six - or larger if they are from just two households - can meet in people's homes.

Domestic overnight stays will also be permitted, so long as they follow the same rules, while groups of up to 30 will be allowed outdoors.

In a key relaxation of previous guidance, the Prime Minister also confirmed that hugging loved ones from different households is to be allowed again.

People will be given the choice on whether to socially distance from close friends and family, although they are still being urged to remain cautious about the risks of coronavirus transmission and close personal contact.

Pubs and restaurants

Pubs, restaurants and other hospitality venues will be allowed to open indoors, with the Rule of Six in place inside, and groups of up to 30 outside. Venues will still be table service only.

Indoor entertainment

Indoor entertainment venues like cinemas, theatres and bingo halls will be allowed to reopen, with social distancing measures in place.

Holidays

Domestic holidays were allowed in household groups from 12 April, but from 17 May this will be extended to the Rule of Six.

The Government has also confirmed that foreign holidays will be allowed to resume from Monday under a traffic light system, with countries split into green, amber and red lists.

Here are the rules for each list:

- Green: arrivals will need to take a pre-departure test as well as a polymerase chain reaction (PCR) test on or before day two of their arrival back into the UK - but will not need to quarantine on return (unless they receive a positive result) or take any additional tests

- Amber: arrivals will need to quarantine for a period of 10 days and take a pre-departure test, as well as a PCR test on day two and day eight.

There will be the option to take an additional test on day five to end self-isolation early

- Red: arrivals will be subject to restrictions currently in place for red list countries which include a 10-day stay in a managed quarantine hotel, pre-departure testing and mandatory PCR testing on day two and eight

Sport and leisure

Organised indoor adult sport, such as badminton and indoor tennis, will be allowed to resume, and some gym classes will be allowed again.

Weddings and funerals

Funeral attendance will no longer be limited to 30 people, but will be determined by how many people the COVID-secure venue can safely accommodate with social distancing. Limits at weddings, wakes and other commemorative events will be increased to 30 people.

Events

Some large events will also be allowed to resume. Indoor events will have a capacity of 1,000, or 50 per cent, whichever is smaller.

Outdoor events will be capped at 4,000 or 50 per cent capacity, and outdoor seated events - such as football matches - at 10,000 or 25 per cent capacity.

Education

All university students in England can return to campus next week for in-person teaching, with those returning expected to get tested twice a week throughout the rest of the summer term.

Face coverings for pupils will no longer be recommended in classrooms or in communal areas in secondary schools and colleges.
