

Dear Parents

We have had a lovely week in Nursery this week. We even got to watch Reception's Aleph Bet party, which was fantastic! The children are very excited to have their own Aleph Bet party when they are in Reception.

This week in Maths, the children have been looking at numbers and listening to the fun rhymes to help form them correctly. They have loved this, and we have been drawing the numbers in the air. The children have also been using the number-blocks to talk about length and height and are using fantastic maths vocabulary in their play.

In literacy this week the children have been listening to lots of stories that have rhyming words in. The children loved listening out for words that rhyme and then went off to find rhyming things in the classroom. We talked about words that rhymed with our names, even if they were silly made up words.

The children created an amazing café in the playground with the large blocks. The children sold ice cream and strawberries which they drew and asked each other to pay with dominoes. The children had to count the dots on the dominoes to make sure they had enough 'money'.

This week in Jewish Studies we have read the lovely story of King Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. We learnt that both The Queen of Sheba asked King Solomon lots of questions that he could answer but really what King Solomon realised through the questions was though he knew the answers it was the humble birds which taught them both the importance of thinking of others. We made beautiful birds which we decorated the tree in the classroom with.

We ended the week with a red and white day. The children talked about football and England, made England flags and created their own football shirts on the Interactive Whiteboard.

Shabbat Shalom
