Reading

Writing

National curriculum

Reading - word reading

Pupils should be taught to:

- apply their growing knowledge of root words, prefixes and suffixes (etymology and morphology) as listed in English Appendix 1, both to read aloud and to understand the meaning of new words they meet
- read further exception words, noting the unusual correspondences between spelling and sound, and where these occur in the word.

Reading - comprehension

Pupils should be taught to:

- develop positive attitudes to reading and understanding of what they read by:
 - listening to and discussing a wide range of fiction, poetry, plays, non-fiction and reference books or textbooks
 - reading books that are structured in different ways and reading for a range of purposes
 - using dictionaries to check the meaning of words that they have read

National curriculum

Spelling (see English Appendix 1)

Pupils should be taught to:

- use further prefixes and suffixes and understand how to add them (English Appendix 1)
- spell further homophones
- spell words that are often misspelt (English Appendix 1)
- place the possessive apostrophe accurately in words with regular plurals [for example, girls', boys'] and in words with irregular plurals [for example, children's]
- use the first two or three letters of a word to check its spelling in a dictionary
- write from memory simple sentences, dictated by the teacher, that include words and punctuation taught so far.

Handwriting

Pupils should be taught to:

- use the diagonal and horizontal strokes that are needed to join letters and understand which letters, when adjacent to one another, are best left unjoined

- of conjunctions, including when, if, because, although
- using the present perfect form of verbs in contrast to the past tense
- choosing nouns or pronouns appropriately for clarity and cohesion and to avoid repetition
- using conjunctions, adverbs and prepositions to express time and cause
- using fronted adverbials
- learning the grammar for years 3 and 4 in English Appendix 2
- indicate grammatical and other features by:
 - using commas after fronted adverbials
 - indicating possession by using the possessive apostrophe with plural nouns
 - using and punctuating direct speech
- use and understand the grammatical terminology in English Appendix 2 accurately and appropriately when discussing their writing and reading.

Subject Coverage

In our writing composition lessons we will be writing in different genres and for different audiences and purpose.

Narrative Stories with familiar settings Myths and legends Adventure and mystery Authors and letters Dialogue and plays	Non-Fiction Reports Instructions Information texts	Poetry Poems to perform Shape poetry and calligrams Language play
--	---	--

To support our writing we will be learning to use the following vocabulary, grammar and punctuation.

- To use I and me accurately.
- To use the various types of simple sentences for effect including onomatopoeia as openers.
- To extend the range of sentences with more than one clause by using a wider range of connectives: however, despite the fact that, whilst, once.
- To begin to distinguish between the different forms of sentences: statement, question and a command.
- To explore phrases within sentences.
- To consolidate the use of past tense and present tense (irregular verbs, as well as common verbs).
- To open sentences with '-ly' and '-ing' words to create subordination and use commas accurately.
- To explore various prepositions.
- To open sentences with prepositions (Behind the old shed, in the far corner of the playground, sat...), starting with one prepositional clause, then progress to two.

- To explore synonyms of various common words used within writing to increase understanding of vocabulary.
- To explore common singular and plural vocabulary.
- To improve the precision of nouns, verbs and adjectives (use of thesauruses).
- To explore the use of adverbs.
- To choose nouns and pronouns appropriately for clarification and cohesion.
- To distinguish between proper and common nouns.
- To distinguish between collective and abstract nouns.
- To use apostrophes for contracted forms (don't = do not)
- To begin to use dialogue and speech marks (and realise that speech marks are also known as inverted commas).
- To explore the use of rhetorical questions.

To use the grammatical terminology from above and previous years accurately and appropriately when discussing writing and reading.

Notes and guidance (non-statutory)

Teachers should continue to emphasise to pupils the relationships between sounds and letters, even when the relationships are unusual. Once root words are learnt in this way, longer words can be spelt correctly, if the rules and guidance for adding prefixes and suffixes are also known.
