Entrust is delighted to have teamed up with new service partner Chartwells, to bring exciting changes to your child's school meals.

Chartwells is the UK's leading provider of school meals, and from 1st June, the Chartwells team will bring their EAT, LEARN, LIVE ethos into school and use their specialist knowledge to improve our already nutritious and tasty school meals. They will also bring fun and engaging activities and events into the classroom, inspiring children to make healthy choices, both at school and beyond.

Here are the important things you might like to know:

-  There will be no change in price for school meals
