

Scope is all about changing society for the better so that disabled children and their families can have the same opportunities as everyone else.

What do you want to do?

What do you need to know?

We're a new service for families with disabled children and young people in Leeds (previously Leeds Inclusion Support Service). We're your one stop for advice and information on a host of disability matters and for exciting short break activities.

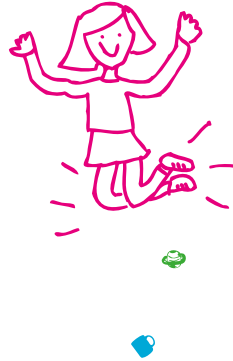

We'll arrange inclusive activities for disabled children and young people aged zero to 18 – during the day, after school, at weekends and in the holidays. We'll work closely with activity organisers to make sure they meet your child's needs, so your child can join in and develop their confidence and independence – while you take a break.

We'll also provide advice and information on services and support available for you and your child across the city.

Scope in Leeds

Activities, advice and information for families with disabled children and young people in Leeds.

“It’s great that my daughter can do the hobbies she loves after school like trampolining and swimming, knowing that she has the right support in place. All children should be able to have fun and enjoy themselves.”
