

End of Year Expectations for Year 1

In September 2014, a new National Curriculum became statutory in all schools across the country. Although the new curriculum is intended to be more challenging, the content is actually slimmer than the current curriculum. It focuses on essential core subject knowledge and skills, often referred to as 'non-negotiables'.

This booklet provides information for parents and carers on the end of year expectations for all children in Year 1.
