Profile	I have worked in special education since qualifying as a teacher in 1978, other than a short career break to begin a family. I trained specifically for this field of education and have maintained this commitment throughout my career. In this time I have seen many changes within the field of special education. In my early years as a class teacher I led several residential trips into the Yorkshire Dales which gave me valuable insights into the relationship between school, staff, children and parents. I have worked at St Anne’s School for more than 20 years, starting as a supply teacher before securing a post as a class teacher. I was Assistant Head, Upper School before becoming Head Teacher in 2011. I’m very pleased to be leading a strong staff team working with an effective and engaged governing body. We will work together to embrace change for the benefit of our pupils. The school motto ‘We all Achieve’ is central to all our work at St Anne’s. My spare time is devoted to family, gardening, cooking and looking after the cat!
