

Revd William (Bill) O'Connell

(Governor)

Born in London I spent my first two years of infant school in Swindon before moving to Hampshire. After leaving school a career in engineering, initially within the power generating industry and subsequently across a spectrum as diverse as Formula One and the petrochemical industry my career ceased and a vocation began in Hospital Chaplaincy and work with homeless drug addicts.

I have been a Governor and Chair at a school on the south coast which had a parallel stream for children within the Asperger's Spectra, the importance of the environment in which children learn is very important to me.
