Twenty children won prizes for 100% attendance this term. Well done!

On Tuesday we watched the British astronaut Tim Peake begin his journey to the International Space Station. It prompted lots of discussion and has inspired the children. We will be following Tim's adventure with interest after Christmas.

At lunchtime Ruby decided to draw a picture to mark the event. Hopefully, the children will be able to remember this occasion for years to come.

On Wednesday Mrs Britton's class went to sing carols at Asda. They were congratulated on their beautiful singing.

The trip to the pantomime took place on Thursday. Thank you to the PTEA for organising the event.

The Nativity play was a magical experience. It was lovely to see the children's unique portrayal of the first Christmas.

Thank you for all your support this term. We wish you a very happy Christmas and look forward to the New Year.
