

Sedgefield Primary School

Learning Together for Life

Deanne Taylor

I joined Sedgefield Primary School's Governing Body in 2014, as a parent governor when my eldest daughter started the school. Since then my youngest daughter has also started and I am happy to say that they both really enjoy school. In my professional life, I have held several positions across several disciplines; including, working in education services, residential social work, safeguarding children's board and youth justice. I am currently responsible for the children with disabilities social work team, the adults with learning disabilities social work team and the special education needs and disabilities team in Redcar and Cleveland. I am proud to be part of a strong and committed Governing Body helping all of our children reach their full potential in a lovely caring and supportive family environment.
