

How to enable restrictions for iPhone and iPad

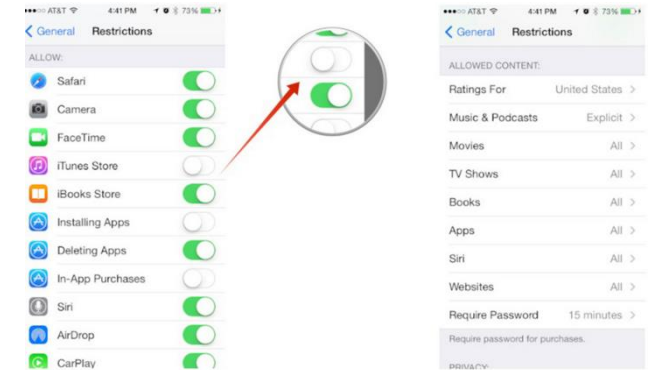

Launch the Settings app on your iPhone or iPad.

Tap on Enable Restrictions.

Under the Allow section, turn Off any apps that you don't want someone accessing without your permission. (This section is for built-in apps and not third party apps.)

Tap on General then tap on Restrictions.

Type in a password you'll remember for when you need to disable restrictions again. (This can and should be completely different from the Lock screen passcode, otherwise the children will know it!)
