Phoenix IPS has prepared a Publication Scheme, attached which details information published by the school and how it can be obtained.

Publication Scheme on information available under the Freedom of Information Act 2000

The governing body is responsible for maintenance of this scheme.

1 Introduction: what a publication scheme is and why it has been developed

One of the aims of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (which is referred to as FOIA in the rest of this document) is that public authorities, including all maintained schools, should be clear and proactive about the information they will make public.

To do this we must produce a publication scheme, setting out:

- The classes of information which we publish or intend to publish;
- The manner in which the information will be published; and
- Whether the information is available free of charge or on payment.

The scheme covers information already published and information which is to be published in the future. All information in our publication scheme is available in paper form.

Some information which we hold may not be made public, for example personal information.

This publication scheme conforms to the model scheme for schools approved by the Information Commissioner.

2 Principles of Phoenix IPS

The Board of Governors, School Staff and Parents have established an integrated, co-educational, all-ability school based on the following principles:-

- The School exists to educate together approximately 230 4-11 year olds from Protestant and Roman Catholic traditions, as well as those of other faiths and none. Phoenix IPS is committed to maintaining a balance between Protestant and Roman Catholic children and to ensuring that this balance is also reflected in the teaching staff and governors. The Religious Education Programme and spiritual life of the School encourages children to reach maturity in their own faith, as well as introducing them to the ideas, beliefs and practices of other religions and philosophies.
- Children of all abilities are welcomed at Phoenix IPS and are given the opportunity to reach their full potential. Through the curriculum and extra-curricular life of the School, students participate in an outstanding educational experience that facilitates their all-round development, enabling them to play an active role in society when they leave the School and progress to secondary education.
- Phoenix IPS is committed to developing confidence, self-esteem and self discipline in all students. There are high expectations of all students and the School has a caring environment where pupils are encouraged to identify and work through their problems or difficulties.

- Discrimination, on any grounds, is not tolerated at Phoenix IPS. The utmost care is taken to ensure that all students are treated fairly and equally and to ensure that there is no discrimination based on gender, religion, social background or ability.
- Parents are encouraged to participate in the life of the School as active partners in the educational process. Meaningful parental involvement is central to the success of integrated education and the School will continue to be most effective in terms of academic learning, behaviour and personal development if it works closely with its parents.

3 Categories of information published
