PARKING

Our focus this month is on parking safely and legally.

Don't forget – PARK and STRIDE

Northwick Park Carpark is the place most people use.

Thank you for your support!

On our recent patrols we have noticed people haven't been parking safely, although there are many safe places and ways to park in our area. In case people are unsure about where to park we have assembled a guide. To help your car go from...

Before you leave your car...

Read all the signs carefully.

Is there a limit to how long you can stay?

Are you allowed to leave and come back within a certain time?

Is it a residents' bay or a Blue Badge space?

Often these can be next to each other, or the disabled bay may be for a resident permit holder.

If you have bought a ticket or are using a permit or voucher, make sure that it is clearly visible, and has been correctly marked if required.

After you close the car door, check the dashboard to ensure the ticket hasn't fallen onto the floor.

You can contact <http://www.britishparking.co.uk/>

Please do not park over someone's driveway as this is very inconsiderate and it is also illegal.

These pictures will be helpful if you are unsure about where not to park.

X On a road marked with double white lines, except to pick up or set down passengers

X Where there are red lines on the road (a London red route)

X In a tram or cycle lane during its period of operation

X On an urban clearway during its hours of operation, except to drop someone off or pick them up

X On double yellow lines at any time on any day. Loading is usually permitted, unless there are yellow kerb markings (see left)

X In a Blue Badge bay unless you are, or are with, a Blue Badge holder

X In front of a dropped kerb, or on verges and pavements. This causes access problems for pedestrians

X Where you may obstruct an access route for emergency vehicles - or in front of an emergency exit

X On a pedestrian crossing, including the area marked by zig-zag lines

X Do not park on land you think could be privately owned but cannot see any signage
